WILL NOT PERMIT IT

The Governor of Florida Says He Will Not allow the Corbett-Mitchell Fight
There.

Has Instructed the Sheriff of Duval County
to Prevent It With Troops if Necessary.

A Test Case Brought and the Athletic Club Manager Confident of a Favorable Result.

TAMPA, Fla., Dec. 25.—Governor H. L.
Mitchell arrived here yesterday morning.
When questioned about the Corbett-Mitchell fight he said: "Really I did not at first believe there was any intention of bringing this fight to Florida, but when I became convinced they meant to have the fight in this state I was opposed to it and gave the sheriff of Duval county instructions to prevent it, and he shall
now have all the backing the state authorities can afford in his efforts to maintain public peace, and the state troops will be at his call if necessary."

"Of course the militia cannot be ordered out unless he calls for them, but I intend to have troops on hand for immediate use necessary. The sheriff of Duval county is a man of intelligence and courage, and he assures me that he will prevent the fight and I believe he will do it, with the assistance he will have at his command."

Manager Bowen, of the Duval Athletic club, said that a test case will be brought next Tuesday before Judge Call,
of the circuit court, and he is confident
the judge will decide that neither the club nor the pugilists will be violating any law by giving his "boxing match."
With a decision of this kind and a municipal ordinance permitting the contest, Governor Mitchell and the sheriff will be powerless. Mr. Bowen declared: "The fight will come off here without fail. We will put up money that it is a certainty."

REGARDED AS A SUBTERFUGE.

Germany Fortifying Her Frontiers and Has a Lane Escape.

BRUSSELS, Dec. 25.—The Berlin correspondent of the Independence Belgi says that the construction of a military camp at Malmédy on the Belgian frontier is the first step toward the general transfer of the army maneuvers from the interior to the frontier.

The object of this change is to avoid the damage done to crops by the concentration of troops in the most fruitful districts in the German empire. Similar fortifications will be constructed probably near the boundary between Bohemia and Saxony and on the frontiers of Pomer-ania and Posen.

This explanation is regarded here as a subterfuge. France is expected to begin fortifying her northeastern frontier to prevent the effect of Germany's action at Malmédy.

TRAGEDY IN IOWA.

A Youth Shoots a Girl and Cuts His Own Throat.

AURORA, Ills., Dec. 25.—The little village of Montgomery is greatly excited over a tragedy which occurred Saturday night. Adolphus L. Babcock, a youth about 25 years of age, and Ella Royetta,
a girl of 16, went to the Christmas festivities at the Montgomery church.
Afterwards the girl went walking with another fellow.
Babcock met them on the street,
grabbed the girl and shot her, the ball entering the lung near the heart and lodging in the liver. He then pulled out his jack knife and cut his throat four times.
The infuriated people would have lynched him if they had not thought he would die anyway. Both are alive, but the chances are against their recovery.

WAS BLOWN TO ATOMS.

Explosion of Nitro Glycerine in a Torpedo Factory.

MCDONALD, Pa., Dec. 25.—Yesterday afternoon the magazine of the Acme Torpedo company at Willow Grove was blown to atoms by an explosion of a large quantity of nitro glycerine. Buildings for miles around were shaken and considerable damage was done. Every window glass in the town was shattered.
No person was seriously injured. The explosion was caused by the glycerine becoming over heated from the fire built to thaw it out. This is the third time within two years that the magazine has been destroyed.

An Appeal for Aid.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 25.—Manager
Leeds, of the California Traffic association, which organized the North American Navigation company, to effect competition on New York freight, publicly announces that the company is in a bad way and unable to meet its contract with the Panama Railroad company. His statement is an appeal to California shippers for subscriptions.

Shot on the Street.

TORRE HAVEN, Ind., Dec. 25.—Lawyer John C. Hult, of Sullivan, was shot dead on the street in that town yesterday by a man who wore a wig and a mask. Ex-Sheriff Willis, who shot Hult
a few months ago, when the latter was found at Willis' home with Mrs. Willis, is suspected of the crime and has been arrested.

Result of Drinking.

KINGMAN, Kan., Dec. 21. At 7 o'clock Saturday night, John Keefe, one of the wealthiest farmers in Kingman county, shot and killed George Astley. The shooting was done on the depot platform
at New Market and was not seen by any one. The two men had been drinking and gambling. Keefe came to Kingman yesterday and surrendered to the sheriff.

A FLEET FOR RUSSIA.

Nineteen Steamers to Connect With the Siberian Railroad.

TACOMA, Wash., Dec. 25.—W. D.
Richards, of Chicago, representing the Russian government transcontinental railway, arrived last night and will designate ports all along the coast from San Diego to Vancouver, B. C., for a fleet of nineteen steamers which the Amoor Steamship company will put on in connection with the new Siberian railroad.

Mr. Richards says five new steamers have been already bought, four of which will leave New York in a few months for the Pacific ocean, the fifth going to the Baltic sea for the present.
Some of the steamers will be ready for service in six months, but the fleet will not be complete for two years or more,
when Russia will have the controlling commercial fleet on the Pacific ocean.

SAFES WERE BLOWN OPEN.

An Indiana Town Visited by Professional Burglars.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., Dec. 25.—Burglars visited the town of Lucerne, on the Vandalia road, ten miles north of here, early yesterday morning. A blacksmith shop was the first visited and tools necessary
to open safes were secured.

The store of W. A. Freshour, in which the postoffice is situated, was entered, the safe blown open with dynamite and $100
in money and $75 in stamps taken.
D. W. Carey's general store was next tackled and the safe blown open. The charge of dynamite was so heavy that it almost wrecked the building. The contents of the safe were secured and the burglars hastily left town. The work is supposed to have been done by professionals.

SLEPT FOR SIX DAYS.

An Alabama Girl Has Awakened After a Longly
Nap.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 25.—Miss Lizzie Everett, of Lebanon, Ala., 19 years old, has just awakened after an unbroken sleep of six days. During this time she did not taste water or food.
She stated after her recovery that she was in perfect oblivion during the time
she was asleep, and but for an enormous appetite she would have supposed she had slept only an hour. This is the second instance in which Miss Everett has fallen. When she was a child she slept two weeks at one time.

This Coupon counts for three votes if sent

WITH SUDDEN HASTE

The Mohican Is Being Got Ready for Sea At Once Under Instructions From Washington.

It Is Specified by the Orders That She Must Start for Honolulu on Wednesday Next.

The State Department Has Some New Orders For Minister Willis of the First Importance.

NEW YORK, Dec. 25.—The Tribune's
special from San Francisco says: Word was received here yesterday from Washington to get the United States steamship Mohican ready for sea at once.
The orders specify that she must sail for Honolulu on Wednesday next, Dec. 27.
Preparations for going to sea have been carried on leisurely on the Mohican, which now is at Mare island for several weeks. Her bunkers are full of coal and her supplies are all on board.

What makes this sudden summons important is that the engineer is ordered to pile her decks full of coal in sacks, so that she can take enough to last until the entire voyage is completed. Her bunkers hold enough for ordinary speed,
but if she is pushed she will consume a good many tons extra, and it is this extra supply which will form her deck load.
It is assumed by her officers that these orders for immediate departure mean that important dispatches will be received here for forwarding by steamer.
If the vessel was merely going in the usual routine of transfer, there would be no need of the extra supply of coal, nor the hurry. The inference is that the state department has some new orders for Minister Willis, which they regard as of the first importance.

The Australia left last Saturday and the next steamer does not start until Jan.
11 or 12. The Mohican when forced can make the voyage in nine days, which would bring her to Honolulu by Jan. 5.
Although today is Christmas, the force at Mare island will be employed in coaling the Mohican. She will come down here tomorrow and start for Honolulu next day.

NEW VENEZUELAN MINISTER.

He Thinks That Gen. Crespo Will Be Elected President.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 25.—Jose W. An-drado, the new Venezuelan minister, who was formally received by President Cleveland, is no stranger in this country.
In 1880 he was a member of the commission which passed the claims of citizens of the United States and Venezuela against the government of the alien country, and in 1889-90 he spent several months here at the invitation of the republic to the pan-American congress.

When Dr. Bustamante was compelled to return to Venezuela last September on account of ill-health, the president of Venezuela appointed him minister to the United States. Gen. Crespo will be elected president, said Mr. Andrado, a result which will be satisfactory to everybody except possibly a few members of revolutionary clubs in an island off the coast of Venezuela, in Paris and in New York.

The relations between the United States and Venezuela, Mr. Andrado was pleased to state, are perfectly satisfactory and amicable. But one undisturbed international claim now exists, that of the Venezuelan Transportation company, of New York, against Venezuela, wherein the company asks about $1,000,000 for the seizure of the vessels and confiscation of their franchise. A treaty has been negotiated for the appointment of a commission to investigate and pass upon this claim, and it will be submitted to the Venezuelan congress for ratification at meeting in February. It is understood the treaty is already before the senate here.

HAD A FORTUNATE ESCAPE.

A Drunken Man Tried to Jump Down a Smoke-Stack.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 25.—David Galloway, a middle aged Irishman, while crazy drunk, attempted to celebrate Christmas by jumping down the smokestack of a moving locomotive from off
the bridge which crosses the Pennsylvania railroad tracks in the Smithsonian grounds in this city.

He missed the smokestack, struck the boiler of the engine and rolled out of the way of the wheels. He was picked up in a semi-conscious state and sent to the hospital, where it was found that he was only in a drunken stupor. Afterwards
he was locked up in a cell at the Fourth precinct until he sobered up, when he was allowed to depart.

Guilty of Embezzlement.

NEW YORK, Dec. 25.—A special to the Times from Raleigh, N. C., says: Carl Cuth, ex-treasurer of Pierce county, has been found guilty of embezzlement, the jury after deliberating thirty-six hours, bringing in a verdict. His shortage is $32,000. Sentence was deferred.

A Sudden Death.

CONCORD, N. H., Dec. 25.—Henry J.
Crippen, senior member of the recently suspended Western loan firm, doing business in Denver, Col., Kansas and Concordia, under the name of Crippen, Clarence & Co., died suddenly of apoplexy at his home here last evening. He was born in Canterbury, England, fifty-six years ago.

Beat His Wife to Death.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Dec. 25.—A brutal tragedy took place in Stevens village, North Andover, yesterday afternoon when Capt. John Wilton, a spinner in Congressman Stevens' mills, beat his wife to death. The murder was the outcome of a family quarrel. Wilton was arrested.

Mexican Poons Killed.

SUCORRO, N. M., Dec. 25.—Unconfirmed rumors have reached here of a fight among sheep herders in Lincoln county, in which three Mexican poons were killed. The scene of the alleged encounter is 150 miles from a railway.
Sucorro is the nearest telegraph station.

CHRISTMAS NIGHT.

CHAPTER I.

LANDED, my traveling companion and I, just as the Christmas holidays were approaching, at the dirty little port of Sled, and after following a half naked fellow driving two bullocks attached to a truck cart loaded with mailboxes about half a mile, at last found ourselves in the "Meson de San Ignacio." It was a dirty house, built of mud, with a thatched roof, and a dirt floor, and a dirt wall, and a dirt ceiling, and a dirt everything else.

The major-domo tumbled two of the raw hides down at our feet, and with many carachoos tramped the wrinkles out to make them fit and then piled the rest of them in the middle of the room. Coffee, tortillas and dried mutton furnished our repast, and soon afterward we wrapped our "escapes" around us and betook ourselves to the sheepskins, having previously made arrangements for seats in the diligencia for Merida on the following day.

About daybreak we were roused by a tremendous lumbering at the door, and after a volley of quaint Spanish curses addressed to several mules, each of which he addressed by the name of some saint, a little parchment faced fellow, with jingling spurs, a broad sombrero, a thick blanket and a heavy whip, and his appearance, calling for his breakfast.

By this time O'Farrell, my companion, was dressed and out to inspect our conveyance.

"Como se llama esta, senor?" he asked of the major-domo in Spanish, which he said, was reasonable, considering, "El diligencia, senor," replied the host, touching his sombrero.

"Is that the Spanish for cart?" said Jerry, turning to me.

"In this case, certainly," I replied, "though not usually, I believe."

Further comments were prevented by an imposing summons from our host, and in 10 minutes we had disposed of a reasonable quantity of the host's flesh and tortillas, washed it down with strong coffee, and returned to the street, where by this time were assembled several senores, with their blankets covering their faces and their sombreros over their heads, and were inspecting what Jerry irreverently insinuated should be called a cart.

"These reales, senor," said the don to my question for his bill, and he received the money with a lofty bow, which no doubt was meant to impress upon us the height from which he condescended to accommodate us at all.

"Cheap enough," said I, handing him the money.

"And dear enough, too," said Jerry, jumping into the "cart."

"Ista, mules Santa Maria Santa Catalina Santa Ursula!" etc., screamed the little courier. The crowd of senores gravely raised their hats, the major-domo bowed like a halibut and we were off. I looked back and saw the crowd close eagerly round "mine beast" to inquire about the strangers, and the noble keeper of the "meson" drew himself proudly up to give an account of his "villagers" to the next turn in the road had them "iron" view, and we were trotting merrily upon the road to Merida.

Our journey to the capital afforded no incident worthy of narration, unless indeed two "breakdowns" and Antonio's dexterity in patching up the deerskin, and about half an hour after sunset we drove into the deserted streets of the "city." All our friend Antonio's "Ista, mules," and "San," and "I'm a most musical, most melancholy" walk we creaked through the wide cack door of the "Meson Santiago," or "St. James hotel." Another Papa, who had a title and longitude differed but little in degree, stood in the paved court, and with many abortive courtesies received the guests, who in this country are always "illustrious."

Jerry took her hand and saluted her fat cheek, telling her he was "delirious" and "glad to see her," and I followed the cordial path into the best room, where a table was already set with red beans, goat's flesh, tortillas and coffee. Jerry stopped at the door and held a short colloquy with the "madre," while I listened to the music—the "diligencia" and the "carachoos" being still at last—I was enabled to hear from an upper room on the other side of the court.

"Why, Jerry," said I as he entered, semi-dressed the old alderman in a waddle, "you seem to know where you are."

"Know where I am? Certainly I do," he exclaimed. "I've been here before—spent two months here once, and by the by, we're just in town. Don't you hear the music?"

"Yes, but I'd know where we're in town without that," I answered.

"Not so deep in town, though," he rejoined. "There is a 'fandango' up there, my boy. See, he's continued, sleeping me on the back. 'See what a thing it is to travel in good company. We have the entire already.'"

"Good!" I exclaimed, entering into the spirit of the thing, for pleasure was what we were after.

"Or," said Jerry, "as they say here, 'Mucho bueno.' Jerry stopped, the door, and the word will never get along here, for d— the word, do any of these people know of King John?"

"Well, well, don't swear, Jerry! I'll rub up my Spanish."

"Yes, and be a little more Irish and a little less nice," he rejoined. "That's quite as necessary as Spanish."

Jerry was an Irishman himself by blood, as his name indicated. So my readers will excuse him. At my rate, I did, for in less than half an hour his energetic, though somewhat untutored, Spanish had given us the entire into the room where was assembled the elite of the city of Merida.

"Here, Tom," said he, dragging me across the room, "come this way, my boy, and let me introduce you."

They were dancing some cross, and as we made our way toward the dance, we passed a group standing in one of the windows, which were all embayed and graced with iron, but contained no glass. A young man with a profusion of gold coins on the outside seam of his slashed pantalones and a very heavy ring on his forefinger stood peep out and was extremely glad to see Jerry, shaking him by the hand and seeming inclined even to embrace him. Jerry greeted him with a nod and introduced me with a good deal of impressiveness. "Don Benito de la Torre," he called him and treated him with far more respect than I thought his shiner's look warranted.

"On to esta Carolina?" Jerry asked, and a slight frown contracted the don's face, but Jerry hurried on, inquiring for his father, Don Francisco, and his mother, Donna Julia, in his rapid Irish way, hardly giving him time to answer.

"Thank you many times," said Benito; "they are all well."

Jerry went on inquiring further, but his questions were all answered coldly though politely. It seemed to me that the subject was unpleasant, and I pulled Jerry's arm. We passed on.

"The manners here," Jerry exclaimed, "not to invite us to his father's house, the finest place and the prettiest girl in Merida! I have no patience with him!"

We stopped before a refreshment table, behind which sat an old fat woman, serving the guests with wine, liquors, nuts, cakes, and coffee. "These are the manners here," Jerry exclaimed, "not to invite us to his father's house, the finest place and the prettiest girl in Merida! I have no patience with him!"

We stopped before a refreshment table, behind which sat an old fat woman, serving the guests with wine, liquors, nuts, cakes, and coffee. "These are the manners here," Jerry exclaimed, "not to invite us to his father's house, the finest place and the prettiest girl in Merida! I have no patience with him!"

for a month's sojourn. After dinner I strolled forth into the town, and as I was expected, took my way first down the street which Carolina lived in. It was the hour of the siesta, a luxury in which all indulge in this luxurious climate, and the streets were almost deserted. Silence reigned unbroken, and one might have supposed that not a living thing was to be found in all this desert. I could hear the echo of footsteps against the walls of a palace, and involuntarily I endeavored to walk more lightly.

The streets were like enormous ditches, bordered on each side by walls of sun dried brick and almost filled up. They sloped from each side to the center, and sidewalks were never dreamed of by that simple people. Here and there a little path ran along the uneven ground under the walls to avoid the pools of water in the rainy season. These I followed from habit more than necessity, for the street was dry and clean. But walking in the middle of a street never did look right, and I was not used to it. I passed a small, dark, and ugly looking place, which I took for a night house, and I passed and walked more slowly when I supposed I had come to it.

A high wall ran along the street for a long distance, and I was not used to it. I passed a small, dark, and ugly looking place, which I took for a night house, and I passed and walked more slowly when I supposed I had come to it.

"He is right. I could do good by staying and might do harm. Telling the boy to say to his master that I would call upon him on the following day and explain my connection with his death, I looked for the best time upon the lifeless form and slowly left the place."

The remainder of my story is soon told. Her uncle never knew by whose hand she had died, but the disappearance of his son led him to suspect Benito. The latter left the city immediately after the procession, and then disappearing down a narrow street he was seen no more.

Yet his own hand had not done the deed, for he was in the procession at the time he was seen by his friends. He looked through the crowd and throughout the mass. The explanation I suppose to lie in the fact that he had got information in some way of the appointment, and then disappearing down a narrow street he was seen no more.

Over all this scene of enchantment hung a veil of mystery, and the story which we saw it on a summer day in the country. The silence was broken only by the humming of bees and the murmuring of a stream, and the beauties of one of the most charming retreats I ever beheld. The grounds were not extensive, containing perhaps not more than thirty acres, but the view from the space were crowded charms which would have been ten times the extent.

DULUTH'S FLOUR BUSINESS.

Will Have an Important Bearing on Future Trade.

About 7,500,000 barrels of flour were shipped from Duluth and Superior during the past season, and if the manufacture of flour at the head of the lakes is continued for the balance of the crop year on the basis that has been maintained for some time past, says the Marine Review, more wheat will have been ground into flour at the new mills than has ever before been received at Duluth in a single season. This seems like a very broad statement, but it is made on the authority of a Duluth vessel broker who is very well posted on the grain and flour business of the lakes.
A line of boats, composed of such big steamers as the Centurion, Gratiot, Selwyn Eddy and Gilbert, will be engaged exclusively in this trade next season. The flour business is certain to have an important bearing on Lake Superior trade of the future.

VERY UNGRATEFUL FELLOW.
Could Not Keep Sober and Will Spend Christmas in Jail.

Saturday night, a fellow named Carlson was brought into the police station in a drunken condition, minus his shoes and hat. He was cared for and yesterday the boys at the station hustled around, found him a pair of shoes and turned him out, trusting that he would go home.
He was so ungrateful, however, as to get drunk again, and last night at Fourteenth avenue car he was caught and taken to the police station. He is spending his Christmas day in the police station sobering up and getting in a condition so that it can be determined whether he is injured or not.

The drawing was conducted with the utmost fairness and was superintended by a committee of newspaper men, who selected a little girl to draw out the winning number. The house is an elegant structure situated on Duluth Heights and would make a pleasant home for anybody.

Smashed By a Car.
Yesterday afternoon about 1 o'clock, between Lake avenue and First avenue West on Second street, a horse-drawn cutter was struck by an approaching car and sprang right across the track in front of the car. Before the motorman could get on the brakes, the back of the cutter was smashed in, the sleigh overturned and the man driving the horse was thrown under the car, his head falling on the track, right in front of the wheel. Fortunately, the car was stopped before any injury further than a severe cut on the head was inflicted. The name of the injured man was not learned.

A WELCOME PRESENT

The Munificent Generosity of the Officers and the Directors of the American Exchange Bank.

Dr. Salter Was Presented With $2500, to Be Divided Among the Various Charitable Institutions.

How Some of Duluth's Well known Citizens Are Passing Christmas—A Few Seasonable Remarks.

The following letter, with the proper enclosures came into the hands of Dr. Salter, as president of the Associated Charities, on Saturday:

My Dear Sir: With Christmas greetings from the directors and officers of the American Exchange bank, I take pleasure in handing you herewith checks amounting to $2500, which please cause to be distributed as follows:

The Relief Society	$ 500
St. Luke's hospital	500
Women's and Children's home	500
Ladies' Relief society	500
St. Vincent de Paul society	100
West End Relief society	100
West Second Lutheran Deacons' Aid society	100
Swedish Lutheran Deacons' Aid society	100
Swedish Reformed Missionary Aid society	100
Glen Avo Relief society	100

We understand that all these organizations have either officiated with or reported at the Associated Charities. Yours very truly,

A. R. MACFARLANE,
Vice President.

Dr. Salter was so rejoiced over the receipt of the above that he promptly drew out that big, long, overcoat of his and started out to distribute the checks. The hospitals were especially pleased over the donation and in more than one case the good woman into whose hands the check was placed could not keep the tears from her eyes. This assistance comes at a time when it is needed, and in several cases where the prospects for an increase in the treasury were not at all bright.

MARRIED IN CONNECTICUT.

County Attorney Team Married to Miss Hine, of Providence.

There was a charming home wedding this noon at the First Methodist church parsonage, 74 Abbott avenue, says the Waterbury, Conn., Daily American, the bride being Miss Lillian G. Hine, of Providence, a niece of the Rev. W. H. Barton, and the groom Charles C. Tear, of Duluth, Minn.

The large double parlors of the pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. Barton were darkened and the rooms handsomely decorated with palms and evergreens. The Episcopal ring ceremony was used, the Rev. Mr. Barton officiating. The bride wore a lovely imported gown of canary-colored satin and carried roses. The maid of honor, Miss Mamie Baldwin, of New Haven, was attired in pale blue silk. The groomsmen were Bernard G. Barton, Faulmann played during the ceremony. A wedding breakfast followed, the tables being handsomely decorated and the repast an excellent one. The affair was charmingly informal, the gathering being confined to the immediate friends of the bride and groom.

The bride is well known in Providence society and has many friends in this city. The groom, a rising member of the bar in Duluth, is a graduate of West Point, 83, and after serving three years in the regular army resigned to study law. Mr. and Mrs. Tear left on an afternoon train for New York. After a period at the metropolis, Washington and Old Point Comfort, Mr. and Mrs. Tear will proceed to Duluth and be at home thereafter Jan. 15, 1894.

FRAZER TO BE REMOVED.

Fred Ryan to Be Made Receiver of the Land Office.

According to a dispatch from Washington, the secretary of the interior on Saturday morning agreed with Maj. Baldwin to immediately remove Sheldon F. Frazer, receiver of the Duluth land office, and appoint Fred Ryan, of Duluth. A brief interview with Land Commissioner Lamoreux convinced Mr. Baldwin that the appointment of Ryan would certainly take place within a day or two.

There is now little doubt that the St. Cloud land office will also be appointed within a few days. There is no shadow of a doubt that Secretary Smith sympathizes with Maj. Baldwin, and that whatever influence he may be able to wield with President Cleveland will be used for Ellenbecker's appointment. Maj. Baldwin resolutely refused to consider any kind of a compromise which looks like the appointment of a new man. In company with Hoke Smith, the major called on the president and pleaded Ellenbecker's cause, and it is said he received definite assurance that the man of his choice will be named.

The Herald's Washington correspondent telegraphed today as follows: It is known that Maj. Baldwin has positive assurances today that S. L. Frazer will be removed immediately as receiver of the Duluth land office. His successor will be Fred Ryan.

That the register and the receiver for the St. Cloud land office will be appointed right away. C. F. Macdonald will be appointed receiver. Maj. Baldwin is still backing Frank Ellenbecker for register, and Mike Doran's candidate is F. H. Brenner. Baldwin says he is working hard for the appointment of J. Adam Bede for marshal, in place of Donahoe.

A Christmas Service.

The Christmas service by the Young Men's Christian association, held in the Temple yesterday afternoon, was well attended, despite the severe storm that was raging. The opening exercises consisted of a song service in which the congregation, the Pilgrim Sunday School double quartet, the Young Men's Christian association and Pilgrim Sunday School orchestras took part. Mr. Thorburn led the congregational singing. Samuel G. McConaughy, general secretary of the Young Men's Christian association, presided and read a short scriptural lesson. The address was delivered by Rev. Dr. Forbes, pastor of the Methodist church at West Duluth, which dealt with the events connected with Christ's birth and dwelt upon the lessons of the Christmas season.

By the Shyckline Route.

Late on Saturday night William Callahan was found dead in a room in the Beckman block on Superior street. He hired the room on Friday night and retired. As nothing was seen or heard of him during Saturday the landlord entered the room from the fire escape and discovered that he was dead apparently from poison, as a small bottle that had contained strychnine was on a table near the bed. Callahan has a brother in Brainerd who has been telegraphed for. Probably no inquest will be held unless the brother desires it.

A CITIZENS' MEETING

The Opposition to Free Iron Ore to Be Embodied in a Memorial to Congress.

Maj. Baldwin to Be Shown That the People of Duluth Are Opposed to Free Iron Ore.

Everybody is Urged to Attend This Gathering at the City Hall on Thursday Afternoon.

A mass meeting of citizens is to be held at a city hall next Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock to express the views of the people of Duluth on the proposed removal of the duty on iron ore and to prepare a memorial protesting against such removal, which is to be forwarded to Maj. Baldwin, who says he is waiting for an expression of opinion from the people.

It will be a non-partisan meeting, the call having been signed by prominent Democrats, including Col. E. C. Gridley, A. E. Humphreys, Henry True, J. L. Greasinger, F. J. Marsh, Hon. Beriah Magoffin, F. A. Frisbie, Frank B. Ross and others, which will give added weight to the expression of the gathering. Every citizen should make it a point to be present at this meeting, so that it may be a rousing one and thoroughly representative.

Maj. Baldwin has promised to vote as the people desire on this question and as many sentiments are almost unanimously, regardless of political ties, opposed to any interference with the existing tariff on iron ore, it is desirable that a large meeting shall be the response to this call.

A COLD CHRISTMAS DAY.

The Weather is Frigid and the Wind Keen and Cutting.

The weather is the universal theme of conversation today. Upon one point everybody is agreed, there is plenty of snow. The wind came in for the usual amount of abuse. One man said that there was as much wind on the streets as if a tariff discussion were going on, but the other fellow said it did not resemble a tariff discussion at all because this wind blew all in one direction and was cold, and that the wind in a tariff discussion came from all sides and generally was warm in character.

The street cars kept good time. The lighthouse keeper at Third avenue has been presented with a gong, a sort of foghorn as it were, which he uses to call a car stop by ringing his bell and the car starts up again. Towards noon the weather moderated somewhat, but it is a cold Christmas day in more senses than one.

Mass Meeting Called.
We, the undersigned citizens of Duluth, being interested in the production of iron ore on the Mesaba range, hereby join in a call for a mass meeting of citizens to be held at the city hall in Duluth on Dec. 28, 1893, at 2 p. m. for the purpose of memorializing Hon. M. R. Baldwin, member of congress from this district, on the importance of maintaining the present duty on iron ore.
E. C. GRIDLEY, A. E. HUMPHREYS, FRANK COX, HENRY TRUE, JOHN SOBELYAN, F. L. GREASINGER, E. Z. WILLIAMS, F. J. MARSH, C. M. VANCE, B. MAGOFFIN, W. F. GORE, G. F. FISHER, J. H. CROWLEY, F. B. ROSS.

Donation Day.

Friday, Dec. 23, will be "donation day" at the Women's and Children's home. Bags will be distributed throughout the city which, it is hoped, will be filled very full as well as gladly. From 11 o'clock a. m. until 5 p. m. on that day, a reception will also be held at the home and the ladies of the board will be present to receive visitors. They cordially invite everyone who feels interested in the home to come and see its inmates.

Gregg and Clarke Sentenced.
Late on Saturday afternoon, John T. Clarke and W. B. Gregg were sentenced by Judge Lewis for conspiracy to obtain money under false pretenses from insurance companies, to which they had pleaded guilty. Clarke was sentenced to ninety days in jail and Gregg to forty-five days in jail or a fine of $75 each. They will serve out their sentences.

The Associated Charities would like to know of a place where those who have no homes could be sent for a night or two. Call at the office, 415 Woodbridge building.

Children of the Congregational Church Surprised by a Visit From Santa Claus Last Evening.

The Christmas Tree for the Presbyterian Sunday School Children to be Ready Tomorrow Night.

An Interesting Budget of Notes About the Latest Happenings During the Past Two Days.

The children of the Congregational church were given a rare treat last evening. A number of older members under the supervision of Misses Bagley and Mars had prepared a regular chimney and fireplace, and when at the appointed time Santa Claus came tumbling down with his load of presents, the children screamed with delight and surprise. Altogether the celebration was a perfect success and an event which the little ones will never forget. The children of the Presbyterian Sunday school will have their Christmas tree tomorrow evening.

West Duluth Briefs.
C. J. Birch, of Harris, is spending the holidays with his parents here.
William Chisholm, of Biwabik, is spending a few days in town.
Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Bradley have gone to Hudson, Wis., for a month's visit with friends and relatives.

J. A. Williamson, of Washington, D. C., is visiting his son, S. S. Williamson.

SAILED FOR RIO JANEIRO.
American Fleet in Brazilian Waters to be Increased by the New York.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—The cruiser New York sailed from the Brooklyn navy yard this morning for Rio Janeiro. All doubt in regard to her destination was set at rest by Secretary Herbert announcing that she had been ordered to no longer than the United States naval forces at Rio and would start from New York today.

Herbert said he had issued no orders directing the double-turreted monitor Miantonomah to join the American fleet at Rio. It is likely, however, that the big monitor will then return to the fitting out of this vessel will be finished within a day or two.

The New York's arrival at Rio will increase the force of United States vessels there to five—all modern cruisers—a greater number of United States vessels assembled at one point to protect American interests since the civil war. The Charleston, the Newark and the Detroit are already at Rio, and the San Francisco is due there in less than a week.

It will take the New York about seven days to reach Rio Janeiro. She will probably make the voyage of 3,000 miles without stopping for coal. Rear Admiral Benham, who will assume command of the United States naval forces at Rio on his arrival, will retain his flag on the San Francisco, but it is likely that, on the arrival of the New York, she will become the flagship of the South Atlantic station.

THE MOHICAN READY FOR SEA.
Will Go to Honolulu to Relieve a Vessel Now There.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 26.—The United States warship Mohican is now at Mare Island, where she has been thoroughly overhauled and refitted by the navy department to receive orders from the navy department to proceed to Honolulu to relieve one of the United States vessels, believed to be the Philadelphia. The latter will then return to the United States and be docked for repairs.

A steel ship like the Philadelphia is generally regarded as only fit for service in tropical latitudes for five months before the steel bottom becomes foul. The Philadelphia has been in the service of the Pacific for eight or nine months and is badly in need of an overhauling.

The Mohican has been under waiting orders for several weeks, but the final orders have not arrived. She is now practically ready for sea, and could start at a day's notice. There is no significance in the fact that she is to be sent to Hawaii, as far as can be learned.

Horses Cremated.
KITTINGING, Pa., Dec. 26.—Yesterday the barn on the Keystone stock farm, in Manor township, owned by Bowser Bros., was destroyed by fire. Twenty horses perished and two men made a narrow escape. The fire is attributed to incendiarism. The loss is $20,000; insurance about $10,000.

Ex-Governor Biggs Dead.
WILMINGTON, Del., Dec. 26.—Ex-Governor B. T. Biggs died at Middleton yesterday. He was born Oct. 1, 1821, and served two years in congress. He was a peach grower and farmer and leaves considerable estate.

Holiday Excursions.

IS SENSATIONAL

making signals?" "No I am not, I don't have to do that."

"Didn't you accuse your husband of being the anarchist who threw the Haymarket bomb?" "Indeed I did not."

"Why didn't you appear in court at the first trial to testify for the prosecution?" "I was sick."

"You were not too sick to go out of doors?" "I only went to church. I was under the doctors' care."

"How many children have you had since January 1889?" "Three."

"Did you not tell George A. Bingley, a detective attached to the office of State's Attorney Longenecker, when he called on you in 1889, that you never talked about this case with any one who was supposed to be connected with the murder except your husband?" "He never asked me anything about the Cronin case."

"Did you not tell him that Alexander Sullivan's name was never mentioned to you by anyone suspected of having anything to do with this case?" "I never did. I expect a lot of bad things will be said about me."

A sensational incident happened at this stage of the trial and interrupted the examination. Mrs. Foy was being questioned about money inducements and wanted to give her answer in a way not acceptable to the defense.

"Let her answer," said Attorney Bottom, and simultaneously came the words "Let us hear her answer" from the center of the newspaper workers.

The speaker was John Devoy, head of the Cronin prosecution committee and a well known figure in Irish nationalist affairs. Attorney Donahoe jumped up and pointing his finger at Devoy exclaimed: "Who is this gentleman who interrupts the court? Let the court order him to rise."

"Does the court ask me to stand up?" said Mr. Devoy, ignoring the lawyer. Judge Tutill reprimanded the speaker, but informed the defense that as a newspaper man and a member of the Cronin committee, Devoy had as much right to be there as Attorney Donahoe.

"Do you know this man?" Attorney Wing asked the witness, pointing to Devoy. "Slightly."

"You know him well, don't you, as the private prosecutor in this case?" "I have met him a good deal lately."

Attorney Bottom was getting excited and protested against bringing Devoy's name or acts into the case. "I will put him on the stand and show his life to the jury as an open book if you want me to. We are not afraid to recognize Wing and Mr. Devoy stand on the same level so far as reprimands go."

This made the lawyers for the defense flare up and enlivened the proceedings.

Only a few minutes elapsed before another exciting scene occurred. Mrs. Foy had been saying that she saw at her husband and quarreled with him. She admitted that she had said she knew all about the murder to outside persons and that she was "as pure as the Virgin Mary."

"Didn't you say on May 5 that you did not know anything about the murder?" The state demanded that the question should be specific as to names and the judge sustained the objection. Both of Coughlin's lawyers were on their feet to launch forth a bitter attack upon the methods of Police Inspector Schanck, Capt. Schuchter and Attorney Scanlan.

Attorney Wing first declared in an impetuous, angry manner that his reason for not mentioning names in his question was that he knew the names of the men he had in mind, was being hounded by the police because it was known he would give evidence favorable to the defense.

He accused the police and Scanlan, the prosecuting lawyer, of subjecting McKenna to illegal arrest, of keeping him in the "sweet box" for hours at the Chicago Avenue station, and the same Russian outrages were being perpetrated on other witnesses for the defense. "It is an outrage on the charge of murdering James Williams and his wife at Port Credit on Dec. 14."

The clue which led to McWhirrell's arrest was furnished by John Walker, the younger of the two men who sold the horse and cutter of the murdered couple. He was arrested yesterday and charged with the murder of Cronin.

He had a right to do that and he notified the defense that he would talk to more witnesses for the defense like McKenna in the same way whenever he pleased.

There was a lull in the storm, but only a minute. Attorney Donahoe was on his feet again, accusing Mr. Bottom of unprofessional conduct in saying to his colleague loud enough for the jury to hear "they are getting desperate."

The jury not to pay any heed to what they heard.

The trial was getting exciting as well as interesting, and half the people in the courtroom were standing up while the bailiff interposed for order.

Then came the biggest play of the defense. Mrs. Foy was shown three letters which she acknowledged had been written by her. At the conclusion of her examination Attorney Wing put them in evidence and read them to the jury. They showed that Mrs. Foy had offered her story first to the defense, had threatened that she would tell all to the state if she didn't get rewarded, and that the witness before the jury in the light of a disappointed, revengeful woman who had peddled a murder story for money, had impudently lied, and told it in court after four years' silence.

The letters were addressed to W. S. Foy, who was reading counsel for the first trial. They were written at the time the appeal for a new trial was being heard before the supreme court. She wrote in the first letter: "I am going to make a sworn statement unless I get some reward."

She also declared that she knew all about the murder, and that when her husband came home the morning of May 5, he said in answer to her question: "Don't let me hear anything about this case unless you are helping to remove a soul into eternity."

The second letter to Forrest was more menacing and aimed at Coughlin. She wrote: "I am going to give a charge now or know the reason why. Tell me I know all about the murder on the morning of May 5. My husband told me. Tell Coughlin from me that I am also suffered and I must have my reward. They have my curse. Now remember, I am going to the state's attorney."

The third letter unsigned was about arranging for a meeting between Mrs. Foy and Forrest. The lawyer's answers were sent through a daily paper. Then the defense released the witness.

On the re-direct examination Mrs. Foy swore that when she visited Forrest at his office Attorney Wing was called in. She denied that she ever asked for money. She appealed to Mr. Wing to admit that he said to her: "We didn't get much money ourselves." Mrs. Foy directed her testimony at the senior lawyer for Coughlin and placed him in a peculiar position. The situation became novel and complicated, and Attorney Bottom wanted Mr. Wing to take the stand at the proper time.

Mrs. Foy was anxious to make the jury believe she was actuated by love for her husband in wanting to make a deal with the state or defense, and that his resentment was her only desire in life. "If you don't change my husband I will make a public statement" were the words she said addressed to Forrest and Wing, in the former's office. She swore that she told them "very near almost the same story" she did in court, when she visited Forrest's office. "That is not true," exclaimed Attorney Wing.

"Do you expect to get a divorce, Mrs. Foy?" asked Mr. Wing, knowing what her answer would be. "We Catholics never get divorced."

"So you want to accuse him of murder and get rid of him that way?"

"It is an outrageous accusation," shouted Attorney Bottom, on his feet like a flash.

"That is all, Mrs. Foy," rejoined Attorney Wing, and the matter was dropped. The chapter in the history of the second trial of Dan Coughlin was closed.

WAS BLOWN TO ATOMS.
Fate of a Boy Who Sat Down on a Box of Dynamite.

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—A special to the Sun from New Orleans says: Ray Shubert, 11-year-old son of the foreman of the New Orleans & Southern Railway, and Rich Dymond, son of John Dymond, president of the Sugar Planter's association, were hunting Sunday on the Belair plantation just below the city, in Plaquemine parish.

Young Shubert sat down on some boxes by the side of a railroad to fix his shoes. The next moment there was an explosion that could be heard for miles and the boy was blown to pieces. Young Dymond, who was a hundred feet away, was thrown to the ground and badly burned.

An investigation showed that the boxes of dynamite were lying in the open field for two weeks.

NOTORIOUS TOUGH KILLED.
Was Brained With a Club by a Nephew of Don Platt.

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—A special dispatch from Urbana, Ohio, says that Grant Jackson, a notorious colored tough, and S. Platt, son of ex-Postmaster Platt, of West Liberty, met in an alley at that place yesterday, while under the influence of liquor and resumed an old quarrel. Platt struck Jackson a blow with a small club on the head, crushing his skull. Jackson died soon after and Platt was arrested.

THREATS BY ANARCHISTS.
The Stations of the Eastern Railway in Paris Now Guarded.

PARIS, Dec. 26.—Writing threats to destroy various public buildings in this city and elsewhere continue to be made ostensibly by anarchists. The latest buildings threatened are the stations of the Eastern railway. Every precaution has been taken to prevent the threats being put into execution. Among the measures adopted is an examination of the luggage of the passengers, it being feared that the anarchists will attempt to smuggle a trunk or valise containing an infernal machine into the stations.

The officials of the company at Pantin, three and a half miles northwest of Paris, have taken stringent precautions to guard the station there. Pantin is a factory town, and it is supposed that some of the anarchist workmen are the authors of the threatening letters received.

HAVE GONE DUCK SHOOTING.
President Cleveland and Party Have Started on a Short Trip.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—The president and his party, according to the best information obtainable, embarked on one of the lighthouse tenders, accompanied by Capt. Robert Evans, of the lighthouse board. They steamed down the Potomac to Chesapeake bay, and it is expected will be absent from the city a couple of days.

It is suggested as the chief object of the trip. The departure was arranged with the utmost secrecy, and officials at the White House even as late as noon denied any knowledge of the president's absence from the city.

ORDERED TO SAN DOMINGO.
Admiral Stanton Will Proceed There on the Kearsage.

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—A special to the Herald from New London, Conn., says: Admiral Stanton has received his official papers in the affair relating to the salute of Mello and orders to proceed immediately to San Domingo, where parties are supposed to be plotting for the overthrow of President Haureaux, who ordered a prominent general and his family on the island to be executed.

Admiral Stanton will leave New London on Jan. 3, and go to Port au Prince, where he will meet the Kearsage, now on her way there, upon which he will hoist his flag and proceed to the scene of the trouble.

A WHOLE TOWN BURNED.
Fire Started in a Mill and Swept All Before It.

SARDINIA, Ohio, Dec. 26.—About dusk last evening fire broke out in Alf Robb's flouring mill at Taylorsville, and before it was extinguished had burned everything in town with the exception of a school house and one dwelling. There were thirteen houses destroyed, besides barns, shops and stores. The total loss may reach $30,000. There was but little insurance. In no waste any money.

The country people in the surrounding territory are caring for the homeless villagers until they can return to their homes. The town will be rebuilt nearer the station.

Mitchell Sails for Florida.
PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 26.—Charles Mitchell is on his way to Jacksonville, accompanied by Harry Darrien and Jack Fogarty. A large crowd of witnesses gathered at 7:30 o'clock this morning. The party will reach Jacksonville tomorrow. Mitchell says he will enter the ring at 175 pounds.

Troops Fire Upon the Mob and Four People Shot Dead

PALERMO, Dec. 26.—Lercara de Fredia, the scene Saturday of a fight between a mob and a body of troops growing out of the anti-tax agitation, last night witnessed a more serious affray, in which four persons were killed and many wounded.

The fight Saturday, in which two persons were wounded, further inflamed the anger of the people, and last evening they determined to make another demonstration against the odious octroi tax and the municipal councillors who insisted upon its enforcement. A large crowd gathered and paraded the streets and finally became so riotous that a body of troops were despatched to disperse them.

The troops attempted to clear the streets, whereupon they were set upon by the rioters, who attacked them with stones and other missiles. The soldiers, who were supplied with ball cartridge, were ordered to fire upon the crowd and they poured a volley into the ranks of the rioters, the effects of which caused most of the mob to flee in dismay.

Four of their number were left dead in the street, while many others fell to the ground more or less seriously wounded. Great excitement prevails in the town, and it may be that further trouble will occur when the funerals of the victims are held.

RIOT IN PENNSYLVANIA.
One Man Dead, Another Dying and Three or More Wounded.

HAZELTON, Pa., Dec. 25.—A report reached there this afternoon that another riot occurred at Elbera last night. It seems that the organization known as "Ironclads" attacked a party of Italians.

The latter surprised the assailants by reinforcements and a fierce fight followed. A man was fatally shot in the abdomen and was brought to the hospital here. An ambulance was telephoned for to convey three others to the hospital.

The wounded as far known are Italians. It is understood that one of the "Ironclads" is dead. Particulars are not obtainable at this writing.

Receivers Applied For.
BOSTON, Dec. 26.—The Union Trust company, New York, filed a bill of complaint in the United States court this afternoon asking that ancillary receivers be appointed for the property of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad company in Massachusetts. The court is required to appoint the same receivers as were appointed by the Arkansas court.

Probably Foundered.
NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—The agents of the German tank steamer Burgomeister Peterson began to fear that the vessel has been lost. Nothing has been heard of her since Dec. 10, when she was reported disabled by the Lancastrian Prince, which arrived at Boston. The Peterson's rudders had been carried away and a temporary one rigged. She was sighted in latitude 47° 30', longitude 41° 52'.

Is Decidedly Crooked.
BOSTON, Dec. 26.—Miss Esther M. Thurber was today sentenced to two years' imprisonment at hard labor by Judge Nelson, in the United States district court, for forging postoffice money orders that had been sent to her mother, Miss Seymour. Miss Thurber came to Boston from Chicago, where she is alleged to have embezzled $800 from a former employer.

Waylaid and Killed.
NASHVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 26.—Dr. Stanton Malone was waylaid and killed by Lou Fouch, near Cookeville in De Kalb county, yesterday. It seems that Fouch entertained an old grudge against the doctor, who had been visiting and the quarrel was renewed. When the doctor left the house, Fouch waited for him and shot him from ambush.

The Coming Contest

In the spring election for mayor will be the most animated that has ever taken place in Duluth.

In order to simplify matters and arrive at the real sentiment of the people as to who is their popular choice for mayor, The Herald hereby inaugurates a voting contest, by printing in each issue of The Evening Herald a coupon which every person in Duluth is requested to cut out and vote as often as they please and mail or bring it in person to The Herald office.

The popular contestant who receives the largest number of votes will on January 10th, the day of the close of the contest receive his choice of the $125.00 Haviland China Dinner Set now on exhibition in Panten & Watson's window, or a $100.00 Easy Chair. The former valuable prize will also interest the ladies of Duluth to take a part themselves in this enterprise of determining who is the popular choice for Duluth's executive head. All you have to do is cut out the coupon which appears on the first page of The Herald tonight and write on it your choice for mayor; every vote cast in November will count as five votes, every vote cast in December counts threecounts and each vote cast the first ten days in January will count one vote each.

The China Dinner Set or the Easy Chair will be delivered to the fortunate winner on the morning of January 11th, and he may also be successful nominee of the citizens' convention which will be held a few days later. Send in your votes. The outcome of this contest will be watched with a great deal of interest and the standing of the different candidates announced from time to time.

The Weather.
U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., Dec. 26.—An area of high barometer extends from the upper Missouri valley to the middle and South Atlantic states, being central over the middle Mississippi valley. The barometer is also high in Wyoming and relatively low to northwest of Montana.
The weather was generally fair in all districts
at 7 a. m., except in the Lake regions where it was cloudy, light snow having fallen during the night.
The temperature was above zero, at 7 a. m., today, in all districts except from the central portion of South Dakota northward.
Duluth temperature, at 7 a. m. today, 12.2;
maximum yesterday, 17 degrees; minimum,
7 degrees above zero.

Local Forecast.
DULUTH, Dec. 26.—Local forecast until 8 p. m.
today: Partly cloudy, followed by light snow
and slight drizzle; fair Wednesday; light southeasterly winds; slight change in temperature.
JAMES KENNELLY,

tomorrow: For Wisconsin and Minnesota:
Fair, followed by snow flurries in the northern portion; warmer Wednesday morning and afternoon; south winds.

The War in Brazil.
President Peixoto of Brazil has ordered drifts on five provinces for 12,000 more men to raise the strength of his army.
This is an indication that he finds his present force insufficient to cope with the insurgents, who up to date appear to have the best of the fighting, that has occurred. The president's call for more men has not been received with much enthusiasm, and a dispatch today
says that one province, the important one of Pernambuco, has registered a vigorous protest. This may be regarded as a sign that the people of Pernambuco are not unfriendly to the insurgent cause, and President Peixoto may find it very difficult to greatly increase his forces.

If the report be true that the insurgents have secured possession of the customs house at Rio and have thus cut off the revenues which Peixoto has been receiving, he will be badly crippled for funds. If Admiral Mello should now succeed in gaining a victory over the new war vessels which Peixoto has purchased, the downfall of the president would not be long delayed. The expected naval engagement is liable to occur
at any time, and Mello has indicated that he is not adverse to such a conflict.
The friends of Peixoto have endeavored to create the impression that the object of the insurgents is to restore the monarchy and they at one time spread the report that Admiral Mello had actually declared the grandson of the late Dom Pedro to be emperor of Brazil.
The story was utterly unfounded and Admiral Mello has repeatedly declared, and his statement is now generally believed, that his object is not to restore the monarchy, but to restore the Republican institutions by deposing a president who has subverted the constitution to his personal aggrandizement and is playing the role of a dictator. The insurgent leader undoubtedly has a host of sympathizers in Brazil and the chances
at present are in favor of his triumph.

The People Oppose It.
Bede's Budget, published at Tower by one of the candidates for the United States marshalship, disputes The Herald's assertion that the people of St.
Louis county, regardless of party, are practically a unit in their opposition to any change in the tariff on ore. The Budget says: "The Herald evidently gets its opinion from the speculators and gamblers who loaf around the Duluth hotel lobbies waiting for something to turn up. The toilers who do the voting are not found in the lobbies and are seldom interviewed in print."

Evidently the Budget has never heard of the petition signed by about 700 miners upon the Mesaba range which was recently presented to congress, protesting against any interference with the existing tariff on iron ore. It is true that these men are not found in the lobbies and are seldom interviewed, but they are doing considerable thinking
just now and when next election day rolls around they may vote in a manner that will not be very pleasing to the Budget. Where are the toilers in this county who favor free ore? The Herald
does not base its opinions upon this question
upon the statements of "speculators and gamblers," any more than it is willing now to accept the dictum of the Budget that free iron ore would be a blessing to Duluth.

Practical iron men of many years' experience and others who have their money invested in St. Louis county iron properties say free iron ore
would injure this district very much, and The Herald believes
them, and it will require better authority
than a Tower publisher, who has no particular knowledge of the question
and has not a cent invested in iron lands, to shake this belief. The assertion of the Budget, however, shows the necessity of every man in Duluth, who can spare
the time, attending the city hall meeting next Thursday to demonstrate that the city is a unit on this question.

National Bankruptcy Law.
There is still hope that the present
congress may pass a national bankruptcy bill. The Oates bill was defeated in the house several weeks ago by a very narrow majority, and it is believed that a measure can be framed that will suit a number of representatives who opposed some features of the Oates bill and that will consequently secure the votes of a majority of the house.
In a recent interview, Senator Mitchell,
of Oregon, added to the hope in this direction. He said that there was a general impression in the country—since the recent action of the house on that subject—that all hope of passing a bankruptcy bill was gone. That impression was not justified by any means. There were live bankruptcy bills pending in both houses, and there seemed to be a general disposition in both houses that there should be some kind of legislation
on the subject at the present session.
The only difference was as to the character of the measure, some insisting that it should cover both voluntary and involuntary bankruptcy, and others insisting that it should be confined to voluntary bankruptcy.

Senator Mitchell added that he had himself, early in the last session, introduced what was known as the Torrey
bill, and a similar bill had been introduced by Mr. Hoar. These bills are now pending before the judiciary committee of the senate, and Senator Mitchell declared that he, as one member of that committee, would do everything in his power to have early consideration and favorable action on them.
The business men of the country will be greatly pleased if Senator Mitchell and other supporters of a national bankruptcy bill can make a winning fight.
Such a measure is greatly desired by the commercial world, and it would be particularly valuable at this time, when
so many individual firms and corporations have been driven to the wall by financial depression. A measure under which these estates could be speedily settled and the bankrupts given discharge would do inestimable good.

Waite's Latest Feat.
Governor Waite of Colorado has issued a call convening the legislature in extraordinary session Jan. 10. The call is characteristic of the governor. He claims that this session will give the legislature
the best opportunity it ever had to do something for Colorado.
This action on the part of Governor
Waite has been opposed by the business men of Denver and the state
ever since it was first suggested.
Mass meetings were held in Denver and at various towns and cities in the state, at which strong resolutions were passed against the proposed action and committees of prominent men have daily visited the governor's office to protest against an extra session.
The movement was strongly opposed
in Governor Waite's home town, Aspen,
but to all appeals made the governor has given unsatisfactory answers and has indicated all along that he would convince the legislature. His action lacks the unanimous approval of his own party—the Populist.

The Superior Leader says that a big manufacturing concern that negotiated for 3000 acres of land and $600,000 in stock of a certain institution at the head of the lake and was to take possession
the first week in January, writing that nothing will be closed, notes that all done further in fact until after the Wilson bill shall have been disposed of and nothing even then if ore shall be put on the free list. Another strong argument against free iron ore.

Governor Swineford is quoted as follows in the Superior Leader in defense of free iron ore: "We have enough ore
to produce 50 per cent more than the country can consume. Our policy should be to look for other markets." If we have so much ore at home, why invite foreign ore to enter and compete?

new market for one ton of American iron ore?

The Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin
says that "wish you a merry Christmas"

other cities we find cause for rejoicing.

Do not forget to attend the public

Herald appeared yesterday in a 24-page
Christmas edition, resplendent in pink paper, check full of advertisements (ink, cream and cake) redundant in news,
local, foreign and manufactured. It was not justified by any means. There were

Dr. L. A. Faulkner.
Men who suffer from that shameful disease
called Gonorrhea, with vital drainage seems to show it in their face and feel it in their brain. And more than that, they are lesioned even to death, to become suddenly blind, impotent, paralyzed or insane.
Be warned by the story of thousands of young men who have drained their strength away by self-medication and who have suddenly dropped dead on the street of heart disease.
Thousands are dying of consumption and Bright's disease of the kidneys who have but themselves to thank for their terrible condition.
Look at the wretched creatures who are burdened today with the burden of gonorrhea. For their vitality, drained of their manhood, they have but one way to live: death is a relief.
For years I have made a special study of venereal diseases and my experience with infected and diseased men has been such that I am not allowed to run, to look, they can be cured. Consultation free at my office. Room 1 over 18 East Superior street.

THE DEFENDANTS WIN

Decision of Judge Lewis in the Case of Clarke and Crosby Versus Milligan et al.

The Virginia Iron Company Adjudged to be Owner of all the Lands in Question.

Milligan is Held Not to Have Any Interest in or Lien on the Disputed Property.

In the somewhat celebrated case of Edward F. Clarke and George H. Crosby vs. George L. Milligan and wife, the Virginia Iron company and the Kentucky Iron company, which was tried at the June term of the district court, Judge Lewis today filed his findings and conclusions. The latter are that the defendants are entitled to a decree adjudging the Virginia Iron company to be the owner in fee of the whole of the lands in question and that neither Milligan nor his wife have any estate or interest in or lien on the same, adverse to the Virginia Iron company, together with costs, and disbursements in the suit. Hutchinson Bevier has entered suit in the district court against James W. Thompson and wife, Alexander D. Campbell and Nels Hall, for the recovery of $5000 interest and costs of suit, on a promissory note given by Thompson to the American Loan and Trust company on Dec. 20, 1892.

CURE AND CONSIDER.

The Coming Spring Elections Now Arousing the Politicians.

One of the signs of the coming mayoralty election is the gathering of the local politicians around the hotel lobbies. The crop of candidates is alarming; at least a dozen are already in the field and there are signs of half a dozen more. A strong delegation waited upon one of the local millionaires on Saturday and urged him very strongly to run for the position. If he consents, Duluth will witness a veritable political revolution.

At one of the primary schools last week the teacher gave the scholars a short talk on the World's fair. One little girl said that her parents had given her a pretty souvenir spoon from there, inscribed "for a good girl." "That is very nice," said the teacher. "Now, did any other child get a present from the fair?" "Up went a little hand, 'Yes, ma'am,' said a small boy, 'my pa gave me a silver spoon also.'"

"And what was on it," asked the teacher.

"Palmer House," replied the innocent kid.

Manager E. P. Emerson, of the Spaulding, received news yesterday of the serious illness of his father, who lives at Worcester, Mass. Mr. Emerson, Sr., who is over 80 years old, is suffering from a stroke of paralysis, and although a telegram today announced that he was resting easily, his condition is such as to cause his family serious anxiety.

"That road from Tower to the gold fields can easily be built from the most northerly point of Vermilion lake to the most southerly point of Lake La Croix, by simply following a line up through the middle of townships 63, 64, 65 and 66, range 16, west," said R. W. Gilkey, the well-known explorer today. "There would only be about twenty miles of wagon road to build by taking this route, and the tugs on Vermilion lake could take suit to the south end of the road, and canoes at present could be used at the north end on Lakes La Croix and Kabetogama, and Rainy lake. In my opinion this would be the cheapest and most feasible route from Tower to the Rainy lake goldfields."

"I see that the irrepressible news fairs is getting in his heady work on the New York papers," said a railroad man today. "There is a blood-curdling story in the Sun about wolves eating people near old Superior. I have lived for more than a score of years at the head of the lake and I have to hear of the first well-authenticated case of wolves destroying human life. I have heard of them killing stock, but never a man."

Not in Any Hurry.

In reference to the numerous rumors that the great lumber king, Frederick Weyerhaeuser, will build a large sawmill at the head of the lake next spring, one of his agents says: "Mr. Weyerhaeuser does not yet know what he will do. Ultimately he will be required to erect a large mill in this section of the country but at the present moment no such enterprise would be warranted."

The remains of William Callahan, the man who committed suicide in the Rocks block Friday night, were yesterday morning sent to the home of a brother in Brainerd. The deceased had for a time been a fireman in the employ of the city, and was discharged because of being too great a family with strong drink, as it is stated. The ash net was probably the result of that.

A party of prominent citizens went to South Superior last night to attend a social function. When they arrived at the hotel they found that there were no means by which they could escape from that remote suburb. The party was blocked by two fire engines, and they all had to seek quarters for the night at the homes of their friends. They arrived home about 10 a. m. today.

In the local United States land office today the contest case of Daniel Feddy vs. Hart Hewitt is on. A Merry Christmas Indeed.

The happiest man in Duluth yesterday was Frederick McLoughlin, who with ticket No. 9944 drew the handsome house and lot given away by the Big Duluth Christmas house. The drawing was in the entire charge of representatives from the Herald, News Tribune, Commonwealth, and the weekly papers. The tickets were well shaken up in a large churn and the winning ticket drawn by Miss Ethel Carpenter, a little girl selected from the crowd outside by the newspaper men. The ticket drawn, 9944, was held by Mr. McLoughlin, who is an old Duluthian, having lived here over ten years at the Heller house at 20 West Superior street. Mr. McLoughlin has been a trustee employee of the Northern Pacific railroad three years. The drawing was conducted with the utmost fairness which only speaks again for the very straight manner the great popular house of Williamson & Mendenhall have of doing business.

WHEAT VERY DULL TODAY.

The market was stagnant with small trading.

The market here today was stagnant, dull and heavy with small trading. Business in May wheat, most in 3000 bus, lots, although several round lots were sold in the afternoon at the best prices of the day. The market opened 1/2c lower than Friday's close for May and advanced 1/2c. This good feeling characterized the dealings at the stock exchange during the past week. A better feeling characterized the sugar market. Sugar has recovered 1/2 to 1/4 per cent. Sugar however advanced 2 1/2 to 3 1/2c. At noon the market was firm in tone.

BETRAYED BY A GIRL

The Killing of Joseph Mrva by Young Czechs For Killing a Police Spy Cause a Riot.

Numerous Arrests Followed and Troops Are Held in Readiness For Fear of Riot.

That Mrva Was a Spy Was Told by a Woman to Whom He Paid Advances.

PRAGUE, Dec. 27.—The assassination of Rudolf Mrva, who, it is alleged by many young Czechs, was a police spy or agent provocateur, and the arrests that have followed, have caused great excitement here and it is evident that the authorities expect trouble. The police are confined in the barracks, ready to be despatched instantly to the scene of any disturbance. The houses of many members of the Omladina, the secret society to which the assassins of Mrva belonged,
have been searched, and more arrests
are pending.

It is reported that a young woman to whom Mrva had paid his advances
knew for a long time of his connection with the police, but she did not reveal the fact to anyone. Mrva persuaded the young woman to join the Omladina and shortly after he became connected with the organization was arrested. His sister, with her knowledge of Mrva's real occupation, concluded that the latter had caused the incarceration
of her brother, and she determined
to have revenge on him.

She had in her possession a note book
belonging to Mrva, which it is said, contains many entries showing that his owner was an active ally of the police,
and that he had betrayed the men who were in the hands of the authorities. This note book the young woman handed over to Herr Herold, the member of the reichsrath who denounced Mrva in the house
during the recent debate on the coercive measures taken at Prague by the government, and Herr Herold intends to publish it and prove the assertions of himself and others that Mrva was a police spy.

SERIOUS RIOT IN ILLINOIS.

A Christmas Spree That Ended in One Death and Others Wounded.

VANDALIA, Ill., Dec. 27.—As a consequence of the no license law Greenville is obliged to go to Smithboro for her spirits, and the hacks and wagons running to and fro from these points are kept busy carrying passengers desirous of obtaining this commodity.

A bloody fight took place at Smithboro Saturday night last. Ten or a dozen young and old men had come in from the surrounding country to have their annual Christmas spree. Toward midnight a misunderstanding arose between William S. Carter and a host of party with him. A regular free for all fight followed, in which chairs, bottles,
clubs, knives and bricks were used.
Both sides came out of the melee with several of their men badly cut and pounded. Sandifer was struck on the head by a flying brick and died Sunday morning. City Marshal Ray, in trying to quell the riot, was fatally hurt. Two or three of the other injured participants are said to be in a serious condition than was at first thought, and prospects for their recovery are not the brightest.

OUTRAGES BY INDIANS.

Mexican Troops Are Unable to do but Little.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 27.—A special to the Globe-Democrat from Guaymas, Sonora, says: Another crime is added to the outrages being committed by the band of renegade Yaqui Indians, who are again terrorizing the mountain regions of Northwestern Mexico. Word comes from the people of Santa Maria that three of the Indians attacked a wood camp near that place, killing the foreman, Ricardo Martinez, and seriously wounding his two companions.
They then fled for the mountain fastnesses and have not been seen since.
The number of Yaquis making the present disturbance is estimated at four hundred. The troops of the Mexican army are constantly in pursuit, but on account of the remarkable powers of endurance
and knowledge of the country possessed by the outlaw Indians, are able to do but little.

To Kill Off the Senate.

PARIS, Dec. 27.—The socialist members of the municipal council of Saint-Ouen-Sur-Seine, a village four miles north of Paris, have chosen delegates for the senatorial elections who have agreed to deposit blank voting tickets in the electoral urns in the hope that they may influence other delegates to follow their examples, and that thus in the course of time the idea of depositing blank ballots may become universal and the senate may die from inanition.

The Trans-Atlantic Mails.

LONDON, Dec. 27.—Rt. Hon. Arnold Morley, the postmaster general, has written a letter to John Mains, member of the house of commons for West Donegal, in which he states that when the present contract for carrying the trans-Atlantic mails by the way of Queenstown shall have expired, the advantages presented by all routes for the carrying of American mails, including that by the way of Moville, will be considered.

A Plot Revealed.

PARIS, Dec. 27.—The police yesterday made a search of the rooms of the anarchist Colea who, with Moulinier, was recently arrested at St. Jean, near Orleans. A number of letters and documents were found, the contents of which revealed the existence of an anarchist plot. Clues also were discovered which will prove valuable to the authorities.

SOVEREIGN'S WILD TALK.

The New K. of L. Leader is a Regular Calamity Howler.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 27.—General Master Workman Sovereign, of the Knights of Labor, has issued an official statement in which he outlines the course he will pursue. He says the order must put its principles into the statutes of the country and make them a part of the practice of society. He continues:

"Everywhere is starvation and death,
corporate greed and avaricious money lords apply the arrogant lash with relentless fury, and congress, like a wooden god, looks down in silent contempt on the wretched of the most patriotic and industrious poor the world ever knew. With these conditions confronting the people everywhere, if we cannot permeate society with a healthy public opinion on the subject of labor
and force the adoption of our principles,
we deserve defeat."

The general master workman further says that he feels warranted in asserting that civil liberty in this country will die within the next seven years unless the Knights of Labor, or some like organization, comes to the rescue. He then shows that according to the eleventh census the increase of wealth is about $750,000,000 while the interest charges exceed $1,500,000,000 per annum. "Do not mistake it for tariff decisions," he concludes, "for the lack of public confidence. It is the jingle of shackles that is always heard by a nation that forces
the transaction of business on debt or credit and robs the labor of the fruit of its toil to pay the interest."

A TOWN HELD AT BAY.

A Desperado Who Shot at All Who Came Within Range.

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio, Dec. 27.—At Mingo Junction yesterday, Steve Johnson, a noted desperado, held the entire town at bay, shooting at anyone that came in range to capture him.

Dinger's store was burglarized Monday night. Yesterday Johnson was seen with a stolen coat on. The police attempted to capture him. He took refuge under Snowden's restaurant, firing at the police whenever they would come in range.
A crowd of 500 people assembled in the vicinity. Finally after Johnson had emptied his revolver, four mill workers plucked up courage enough to go after the thief. He was dragged out of the place by the legs and landed in the lockup. No one was injured by the shooting.

VIOLATION OF A TREATY.

Americans in Nicaragua Compelled to Make War Loans.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—The Herald's Managua, Nicaragua, special says: The government of Nicaragua has been collecting forced war loans from American citizens resident here, in violation of the treaty. United States Minister Baker made a vigorous protest against these proceedings.

Policarpo Bonilla, who returned to Nicaragua on Dec. 17, has gone to the frontier, near Somotillo, to head off the Honduran insurgents, who have invaded Honduras. Manuel Bonilla has laid siege to Cholotera and the Nicaraguan troops are massing at the North to lend assistance.

PROVED A HOT SHOT

The Northern Pacific Receivers' Action Was a Surprise and the Men Are Much Puzzled.

Judge Jenkins Criticized For Issuing an Injunction Restraining the Men From Leaving Their Work.

Receiver Payne Does Not Expect That the Men Will Yield Without Making a Fight.

ST. PAUL, Dec. 27.—The action of the receivers of the Northern Pacific was a hot shot into the camp of their friends,
the enemy. It was entirely unexpected and caught the men between wind and water. Yesterday they were confident of gaining their end, but today they are non plussed—and hot. They were told yesterday that the receivers' circular could not be thrust aside. The situation hinges upon the men. Will they submit or will they strike? They will not give a straight answer.

It is claimed that the men have gained nothing whatsoever, and that the predicted 120 of them here, for the past two weeks, has cost the organizations
not less than $500 per day.

Lawyers and others interested in judicial matters are inclined to be amused
at the nature of the injunction made by the receivers, as restraining the men
from doing what is already made a crime
by the law, and the action
of Judge Jenkins at Milwaukee,
in issuing an injunction restrain-ing the men from leaving their employment, is severely criticised.

RECEIVER PAYNE TALKS.

Does Not Expect the Men to Yield Without a Struggle.

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 27.—Henry C.
Payne, one of the Northern Pacific receivers, says he does not expect the employees of the road to accept the reduction of pay and the order of the United States court without a struggle. He expects a delegation of trainmen from St.
Paul in a few days to appear in court
here and protest against the order against their striking, made public last night.

If they do strike, he said, there will be no trouble in filling their places. Scores of applications for positions have been received from railway men all over the country. Railway men are beginning to gather at St. Paul now, hoping that a strike will cause vacancies on the road,
which they can fill.

Mr. Payne declined to express any opinion on the contention of the men
that it was with bad grace that the receivers ordered the cut after applying for a yearly salary of $18,000 apiece.

THE AUDIENCE WAS SCARED.

Rumor of a Probable Anarchist Outrage Emptied an Opera House.

MADRID, Dec. 27.—A large audience gathered last night in the Royal Opera house, and while waiting for the performance to begin the people conversed with each other in the manner common at operatic performances. Suddenly a rumor was circulated through the house that anarchists were present and intended to commit a bomb outrage.

With the memory of the outrage at the Lycium theater at Barcelona fresh in their minds, the people did not for an instant doubt that the rumor was true,
and in less time than it takes to tell of it
the whole audience was in a state of semi-panic. The women hastily donned their wraps, men grabbed their hats and overcoats and hurriedly departed from the building.

The hasty egress of the audience
attracted the attention of passers-by,
who were soon informed of the rumor that had driven the people from the opera house and these, in turn, further circulated the report with such additions as their imaginations suggested.
In some quarters it was reported that a frightful explosion had occurred, and soon the streets in the vicinity of the opera house were packed with excited throng of people clamoring for details of the affair.

The population of the whole city was intensely excited. The news speedily reached the governor of Madrid and close upon its heels followed a denial.
The governor at once drove to the opera house, where by this time the people, among whom lingered many of those who had been inside the building, were demanding the instant arrest of the
would-be bomb throwers, though who they were or where they were no one could say.

When the governor appeared and stated that the rumor was a canard, the crowd became reassured and most of them quietly departed. The great fear and excitement caused by a mere rumor
of an anarchist plot is evidence of the state of the people, caused by the repeated anarchist outrages.

TOOK TWO THOUSAND

Three Faro Dealers Were Held Up in a Chicago Gambling House and Robbed of $2200.

The Robbery Was Performed by Two Men Who Scared the Gamblers With Drawn Revolvers.

Having Secured the Cash, They Slowly Backed Out of the Room and Quickly Disappeared.

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—Two men entered the gambling house at No. 20 Quincy street, last Saturday morning, secured $200 in cash, with revolvers, and three faro dealers, backed out of the door and made their escape. This robbery, following so closely on the heels of the $1500 hold-up of the employees at 14 Quincy street, which occurred on Dec. 19, has had an electrical effect on the gamblers here and they are now devising and planning for some sort of protection.

In the Saturday morning job no masks were used and the men who did the work were admitted as ordinary seekers after the favors of dame fortune. Dan Creston, the doorman and lookout at No. 20 Quincy street, states that it was sharp on the hour of 10 o'clock when he opened the heavy door at the head of the steps that opens in the main apartment of the bank to admit two ordinary appearing men who had touched the button in the center of the panel.

When he looked through the small aperture in the door and saw the two men, they had their hands in their overcoat pockets. When they crossed the threshold of the door each had a murderous looking gun leveled at his stomach. While one of the men covered the dealers, the other scooped in all of the cash in sight and deliberately stowed it in his pockets.

"Now, you fellows, keep buddled up close together, and if you attempt to follow us you'll run against a game." This came from the man who had been covering the employees of the place, while his companion was securing the money. The two men then slowly moved toward the door backward, opened it and in an instant disappeared around the corner of the Great Northern hotel.

While good descriptions of the men were taken by all three of the employees, all of which tally, the police have thus far failed utterly to locate them.

THEY ILL-TREATED CHILDREN.
Two Died and the Other Has Been Shockingly Treated.

LONG ISLAND CITY, L. I., Dec. 27.—Rev. Edward Bell, editor of the Weekly Flag, a local paper published in this city, and his wife were arrested last evening accused of neglecting and ill-treating Arthur Morrison Bell, 13 years old, a child by Bell's former wife.

The boy was taken to Astoria hospital a week ago, following the peculiar death of his 16-year-old sister, Edith Bell, who died after an illness of nine days of pneumonia and diphtheria. She died without medical attendance and her body was exhumed for chemical analysis.

Several weeks previous to that another child in the family, Harry English Bell, 15 years old, was found dead under similar circumstances. Agent Hermann Myer, of the Brooklyn society for the prevention of cruelty to children, says he has evidence enough against both to have them indicted for manslaughter in connection with the death of the two children named.

Inquiry Demanded.
PARIS, Dec. 27.—The Lanterne newspaper demands that an inquiry into the French navy be granted owing to the fact that in 1926 sixteen persons who had no connection with the marine department, including three Americans and six Englishmen, were present at gun practice at Gavre, while Mr. Lockroy and other members of the budget committee were not allowed to be present.

MYSTERIES!

The Nervous System the Seat of Life and Mind. Recent Wonderful Discoveries.

No mystery has ever compared with that of human life. It has been the subject of professional research and study in all ages. But notwithstanding this fact it is not generally known that the seat of life is located in the upper part of the spinal cord, near the base of the brain, and no sensitive portion of the nervous system that even the pick of a needle will cause instant death.

Recent discoveries have demonstrated that all the organs of the body are under the control of the nerve centers, located in or near the base of the brain, and that when these are deranged the organs which they supply with nerve fluid are also deranged. When it is remembered that a serious injury to the spinal cord will cause paralysis of the body below the injured point, because the nerve force is prevented by the injury from reaching the paralyzed portion, it will be understood how the derangement of the nerve centers will cause the derangement of the various organs which they supply with nerve force.

Two kinds of chronic diseases are due to the imperfect action of the nerve centers at the base of the brain, not the least of which are primarily originating in the organ itself. The great majority of physicians, in treating these diseases, are that they treat the organ rather than the nerve centers which are the cause of the trouble.

Dr. FRANKLIN MILES, the celebrated specialist, has profoundly studied this subject for over 20 years, and has made many important discoveries in connection with it. Chief among them being the facts contained in the above statement, and that the cause of the disease is in the nerve centers, and not in the organs themselves. All headache, dizziness, dulness, constipation, nervousness, mania, melancholia, insanity, epilepsy, St. Vitus' dance, etc., are nervous diseases no matter how caused. The wonderful success of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve is due to the fact that it is based on the foregoing principles.

Dr. Miles' RESTORATIVE NERVE is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle. It contains neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.

CARLEY LOST HIS CASE.

Tod & Co. Drove a Hard Bargain But the Law Protects Them.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Justice Patterson, of the supreme court, yesterday gave a decision dismissing the complaint in the action brought by Francis D. Carley to set aside and annul notes aggregating $70,000, which he had given to the banking firm of J. Kennedy, Tod & Co., and also a contract dated Sept. 8, 1890, made with the bankers. Tod & Co. set up a counter claim for the amount of these notes and on that the justice gives a judgment against Carley.

Carley was formerly a resident of Lexington Ky. He was interested in the development of timber and mineral lands in that state and in the construction of the Kentucky Land company, and the Kentucky Union Railway company, of both of which he became president. Tod & Co. were his financial agents in this city and advanced several million dollars for the enterprises which he started, taking bonds and shares of stock in the undertakings. They secured a large bonus in stocks or bonds and also a cash commission for floating and marketing the securities.

In the transaction complained of Tod & Co. advanced $200,000 to Carley, the latter pledging securities for the loan. He gave his personal notes for $70,533. He claimed that the contract was brought about by duress, and he asked that it be declared void and that he receive his securities and that so be declared void for usury, because he was to have paid $50,000 cash, provided the $200,000 was not repaid in one year.

Justice Patterson said that there was nothing in the acts of Tod & Co. to justify this action and while there may have been a hard bargain, there was no fraud or coercion. There was no fraudulent advantage taken of Mr. Carley. He said it was manifest that the contract was usurious, but it could not be declared invalid in this case, because Tod & Co., as bankers, were exempted from the usury statutes of this state, as they existed at the time this contract was made.

DEATH OF A MILLIONAIRE.

Had Just Completed a Charitable Act at Church.

YONKERS, N. Y., Dec. 27.—Robert C. Gisher, millionaire and philanthropist, aged 57 years, died in the parish house of Trinity Episcopal church in New Rochelle yesterday. The deceased attended the Christmas service in the church Monday in apparently excellent health.

At the conclusion of the services he took a position at the door of the room and handed each of the poorer members and attendants at the church a $20 gold piece as a Christmas gift, when they passed from the building.

He had just completed this charity when he suddenly reeled and would have fallen had not he been supported by several friends who stood by. He was removed to the parish house of the church by direction of the rector, Rev. C. F. Camby, and medical aid summoned. He died there next morning at 7 o'clock.

THE INDICTMENT NOLLED.

Frank Langan, of Minneapolis, Vindicated in an Ohio Case.

LIMA, Ohio, Dec. 27.—Tuesday morning when the case of the state vs. Frank Langan, cashier of the defunct Lima National bank, who was indicted by the grand jury for the alleged embezzlement of $7000 from the Columbus, Lima & Milwaukee railroad company, was called, the prosecuting attorney asked the court to nolle the indictment, which was done.

The dropping of the case against Langan caused great surprise to the defense, which had prepared to make a hard fight. Langan, who is now in business in Minneapolis, has been here since the indictment was found, personally arranging his defense.

CHICAGO BROKER DEAD.

One of the Most Prominent Dealers in Wheat Passed Away.

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—William H. Murray, for years one of the most successful and best known members of the Chicago board of trade, died at Pass Christian, Miss., Sunday, Dec. 24.

Mr. Murray had been ill for some time and went to Pass Christian expecting to recover his health there, but instead died unexpectedly. He was one of the most popular as well as one of the most successful brokers, and managed the first one million bushel deal in wheat that was ever attempted on the Chicago board.

To Be Held Indict.
NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—The interest on the general mortgage of St. Louis & San Francisco fives and sixes which will be paid Jan. 1, amounts to $541,535. This is generally taken as an indication that it is intended to hold the entire Atchison system intact. A failure to pay the interest on the St. Louis bonds would cause a default on the interest of the Atlantic & Pacific bonds, which is guaranteed jointly by the Atchison and St. Louis & San Francisco, and might result in a dismemberment of the whole system.

A Dastardly Attempt.

DENVER, Dec. 27.—The third successive attempt to cause a wreck on the Union Pacific was frustrated yesterday by the vigilance of the engineer of the Valverde suburban. A 3-foot piece of rail had been driven into a switch frog and the switch was thrown open and locked by means of a crow bar. Detectives have been put on the case.

Was Instantly Killed.

ZANESVILLE, Ohio, Dec. 27.—To avoid the payment of 20 cents, a yesterday, Bub Togue, a coal miner, swam around the end of a Cincinnati & Muskingum Valley passenger car, to hide from the conductor. He was knocked off by a bridge and killed.

Sculptor Woodington Dead.

LONDON, Dec. 27.—William Woodington, the sculptor, an honorary associate of the Royal academy, died in this city on Saturday. He was 85 years old.

THE TOWN WAS SHAKEN

Boilest and Most Remarkable Burglary in Connecticut in the Last Quarter of a Century.

The Safe in a Postoffice Blown Open With Dynamite and One Thousand Dollars Stolen.

Nearly the Whole Building Was Wrecked and the Town Was Shaken by the Explosion.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—The Herald's Hartford, Conn., special says: The boldest and most remarkable burglary in Connecticut in the last quarter of a century was perpetrated by expert men in the postoffice at Jewett City, a large mill village in Eastern Connecticut, on the line of the Norwich & Worcester railway. The robbers got away with a big stack of postage stamps and $1000 worth of money and registered letters.

It was 2 o'clock in the morning when the robbers touched off their gunpowder mine in the safe and the crash of the explosion shook the town. A night watchman heard the robbers riding away, but was so dark that he could not see them. The robbers secured entrance to the postoffice by boring a hole through the door. Then they padded the office windows and walls with thick canvas sacks to deaden the sound of their work; drilled a hole in the safe; inserted enough powder to blow up a dozen safes and touched it off.

The massive safe door was blown open, and the robbers entered. They crashed through an 8-inch thick stout partition wall, carrying away most of the partition and landed in one of the distant inner compartments of the building. The fly of glass-faced letter boxes, the ceiling and walls of the office, ground them into a mass of debris, which it piled in to deaden the sound of their work; drilled a hole in the safe; inserted enough powder to blow up a dozen safes and touched it off.

ARE HELD AS CAPTIVES.

Austrians in the Mahdists' Hands to Be Liberated.

BUDA PEST, Dec. 27.—A captain belonging to a Honved regiment will shortly start for Cairo, where he will assume the command of an expedition to the Sudan. The object of the expedition is to liberate the Austrian's Herr Neufeldt, a merchant, and Slatin Bey, who have long been held as slaves by the Mahdists.

Before the departure of the expedition from Cairo its commander will have a conference with Father Ohrwalder, the priest who escaped from the Mahdists. Father Ohrwalder, and the Sister Catherine Chivacini and Elizabeth Venturini, belonging to the Sudanian mission, were captured by the Mahdists and since their capture have been held in slavery for a long time. They effected their escape during a fight between the natives of Omdurman, and after many privations crossed the desert to Kordofan.

They reported that when they left Omdurman there were still held captive by the Mahdists at that place 10 Greeks, 8 Syrians, 3 Jews and 2 Austrian missionaries. Slatin Bey was then holding a high post under the Khalifa Abdallah, felder was kept in chains and the Austrian mission church at Khartoum, by the Mahdists and since their capture have been held in slavery for a long time. They effected their escape during a fight between the natives of Omdurman, and after many privations crossed the desert to Kordofan.

A WAR IS PROBABLE.

The Situation in Uganda is Becoming Very Serious.

BERLIN, Dec. 27.—The Tageblatt prints an article by Eugene Wolf, based on letters he has received from Uganda to July 15th. He says that the Mahomedans have again been expelled from Uganda, and that since their expulsion in that country is denied. He predicts, however, that a war between the Christians and Mahomedans is probable and that "Uganda will be the scene of the conflict."

A SERIOUS ROW IN DETROIT.

Nine Poles Used Revolvers and Knives Very Freely.

DETROIT, Dec. 27.—A shooting and cutting affray occurred among a party of the Poles in Papki's saloon, corner of Wesson and Norton avenues, in the western part of the city last night. The party had been drinking heavily and finally got into a fight, in which revolvers and knives played a prominent part.

Albert Gerant was shot in the back and was taken to St. Mary's hospital. He will probably recover. John Bujack was removed to his home, his head badly lashed from being struck, and the badly cut. Jacob Bujack, Paul Bujack, and Frank Gerant are locked up in Vinewood avenue police station, all suffering from severe face and scalp wounds.

IT WAS AN INFERNAL MACHINE.

Two Berlin Workmen Badly Injured by a Package They Found.

BERLIN, Dec. 27.—Two workmen who were walking together in Muggelze, near this city, today, came upon a package in the street which they thought might contain something of value. They sought a quiet spot and then sat down to examine their find.

One of the men unwrapped the package, while the other man stood by, looking anxiously to see what its contents were. Suddenly that was a blinding flash and a loud report and the package disappeared. Several persons attracted by the report, ran to the scene and found the two men quite badly wounded about their faces and hands. They were attended to by the police and were informed of the occurrence.

There is no doubt that the package contained an infernal machine that was placed where it was found by some one, presumably an anarchist, for the purpose of killing or injuring whoever might be tempted to pick it up and examine it.

The "Cure" Killed.

GREENSBORO, N. C., Dec. 27.—The sudden death of Frank St. John yesterday has been the talk of the town. He was undergoing treatment from a local physician for the lighter headache and had been in good health up to Monday when he appeared upon the streets. On taking a dose of the "cure" he soon became delirious and continued to grow worse rapidly when his physician, it is said, administered a dose of chloroform and death resulted.

Made a Confession.

PRAGUE, Dec. 27.—The prisoners, Dollesal and Dragoun, who were arrested on the charge of being connected with the murder of Rudolph Urva, have made a complete confession. They say they were prompted to kill Urva by Deputy Herold's denunciation of him in the reichsrath during the recent debates on the government's coercive measure.

Both Were Killed.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 27.—John Williamson and Dock Adams had a drunken brawl at Evans yesterday. Williamson shot and killed Adams. Sheriff Davis attempted to arrest Williamson who resisted and shot at the officer. The officer returned the fire and Williamson fell dead.

Granted a Stay.

IT SHOULD BE UNDERSTOOD

Because it is of Immense Value to People We Want to Reach.

Suppose you can do something that everyone wants to have done, but that no one but yourself has succeeded in doing. Suppose you have had years of practice in this art, and that your success has been invaluable—so complete, in fact, that you would stake your life upon the result of your effort. Now suppose again that there are thousands of people suffering the keenest physical pain because they do not know that you, by the art you have developed, can give them relief.

What would you do? Would you not immediately proclaim to the public the fact that you have this certain skill to accomplish what is demanded? And would you not keep on proclaiming the fact, and still keep on, spurred to constant activity by the knowledge that your assertions will bring people to you and enable you to banish their suffering?

We think you would. Well, that is just what we are doing and shall continue to do so. We know that there are thousands of people suffering from catarrh and its many complications. We know that there are few, if any, physicians in the city who can cure this disease. We know that we can. We, therefore, go direct to the people, not with mere assertion, but with proof on proof, drawn from an armory of such evidence, always with the idea that by a constant repetition of the truth we can reach all the people who are suffering, and do for them what no one else has been able to do.

Endorsement From a Resident of West Duluth:

Mr. E. G. Smith, a well-known resident of West Duluth who lives at 24 Sixth avenue west, and is employed by the West Duluth Electric company, has been treated by the Copeland physicians and gives them his hearty endorsement. The gentleman says:

"I suffered from catarrh of the nose and throat, but at times my whole system seemed to be affected. There was a dull heaviness in the front part of my head; my eyes were weak and watery. The catarrhal inflammation stopped my nose up so I couldn't breathe through it. Large quantities of mucous would drop from the back of my nose and accumulate in the throat and cause incessant hawking and spitting; my throat was tender and sore and greatly aggravated by the least use of the voice. I often had pains in the small of my back, in the chest and in the stomach. While my appetite was good, I did not enjoy my food as I should. I did not rest well at night and arose in the morning as tired as I had been the night before. I had often heard of the Copeland physicians, but didn't have much faith in them. However, after consulting a friend who had been treated by them, I decided to see them. They could remedy my case, and now, after taking a course of treatment, feel well and cannot say too much in favor of their system of treatment. They give the best of services and at rates which are decidedly reasonable.

All diseases treated at the uniform rate of $5.00 a month. Remember, this includes consultation, examination, treatment and medicine for all diseases and all patients.

She Was a Miser and Thought to be Immensely Rich.

NEWARK, Dec. 27.—Mrs. Elizabeth P. Petty, aged 65 years, who lived alone in a frame house at No. 79 Commerce street, was found murdered in the house this morning. She had led a solitary life for many years and was considered insane. When found she had been dead for some time.

SHORTAGE OF THREE MILLIONS.

A Huge Deficit Stares the City of Chicago in the Face.

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—The Evening Post today says: All the information obtainable regarding the city's financial condition tends to show that the deficit in the municipal treasury amounts to nearly $3,000,000. An expert report to that effect will be submitted to the city council by Mayor Swift tonight, but it is incomplete.

The investigation of the comptroller's office by an accountant shows that the city has been woefully mismanaged and that it is next to impossible to ascertain the facts. As far as the expert has been able to examine the books, an actual shortage of $2,600,000, about $1,500,000 more than the first estimate of the deficit, has been found, and it is more than probable that other debts will be found when a more thorough examination of the accounts has been made.

Mitchell in Florida.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 27.—Pugilist Mitchell and his party got in at 11 o'clock this morning. A crowd of 1500 people met the Englishman at the depot and followed him to the Everett hotel, where it took two policemen, six bell boys and three porters to keep them from crushing in the big glass doors. The crowd that received him was larger than that which greeted Corbett.

His Own Offspring.

There was a crowd of excited darkies in a dark alley gathered around two negro boys who had clinched each other and were fighting away for dear life on the ground.

There was one negro man present, and he urged the combatants not to give up.

"Gouge your eye out, Bill! If you give in I'll tan yer hide for yer. If you whip Bill I've got a quarter for yer. Chaw dewd of his nose, Sam."

A well dressed gentleman stopped and said to the negro man:

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself to encourage these boys to fight."

"Why, boss, dem's my own chilrns."

"No, I was afraid to laugh. If I had laughed, you know, you'd think I was laughing at you."

"How do you make that out?"

Not To Blame.

KILLED BY OFFICERS

Inquest in Chicago on a Man Who Was Shot Early Christmas Morning by Policemen.

Mrs. Berkman Says He Told Her Officers Moran and Healy Shot and Robbed Him.

When She Said She Would Tell the Story, Officer Healy Struck Her in the Breast.

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—At the inquest today on the body of E. A. Nielson, who was shot early Christmas morning by Officers Moran and Healy, Mrs. Berkman swore that he was aroused at 3:30 o'clock Christmas morning by the cries of Nielson and she found him under the back steps of her house and recognized him as a friend. She called the police and asked the wounded man what he had done. He replied that the officers had shot him and had taken everything he had.

When Officers Moran and Healy arrived, Nielson begged the woman not to leave him. The police asked her if she was going to do as Nielson had requested and she replied that she was. Officer Healy says, thereupon, "I threatened to kill her if she did not go away."

Mrs. Berkman repeated this statement and then swore that Officer Healy struck her twice in the breast with his fist. The inquest is being continued this afternoon.

Officers Moran and Healy are under arrest.

Later—After a short deliberation the jury returned a verdict finding Officers Healy and Moran to answer to the grand jury.

THE HAWAIIAN QUESTION.

The Inquiry of the Senate Committee Was Begun Today.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—The subcommittee of the senate committee on foreign relations, which was charged with the inquiry into the events leading up to the revolution in Hawaii, the installation of the provisional government and the conduct of the executive branch of this government in the matter, met promptly at 10 o'clock this morning.

One member was absent, Senator Butler of South Carolina, who is spending the holidays in his native state.

With a view to informing the subcommittee of the exact scope of the inquiry as defined by the senate, the chairman then caused to be read the resolution upon which it will proceed. The full text is as follows:

"Resolved, that the committee on foreign relations shall inquire and report whether any, and if so, what irregularities have occurred in the diplomatic or other intercourse between the United States and Hawaii in relation to the recent revolution in Hawaii, and to this end the committee is authorized to send for persons and papers and to administer oaths to witnesses."

While the resolution was being read there were two gentlemen in waiting in the ante room. They were present in response to an invitation from some of the members of the subcommittee, who they might be called upon for statements today. They were Rev. O. P. Emerson and Surveyor General Alexander, both citizens of Hawaii and both believed to be in strong sympathy with the provisional cause.

Mr. Emerson was the first witness called and in answer to the call he declared behind the closed and guarded doors of the inner room. He is said to have testified that there were threats of harm to individuals and that the people were fearful of attempted outrages and incitements. For this reason and for the purpose of protecting Americans and their property, Mr. Emerson said the United States marines and sailors were sent.

He was positive they took no part in the overthrow of the queen and lent no aid to the men who established the provisional government. Mr. Emerson said a personal acquaintance with the men at the head of the existing government and paid them a high tribute as men of honor and integrity. He left the island room until after the departure of Mr. Blount, coming to the United States in order to attend the religious congress at the World's fair. He left the island room before the arrival of Minister Willis.

The senate committee adjourned until Tuesday morning when a number of witnesses who will be meanwhile subpoenaed will be present.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Dec. 27.—News has just reached here of the killing at San Quintin, Lower California, on Christmas day, of Herbert Jewers Hunt, a young Englishman, by Jose Blanco, chief of the custom house guards.

It is claimed by Blanco and his friends that the shooting was entirely accidental, but persons here who are well acquainted with Blanco say that there was a woman in the case. The particulars of the shooting are not known.

Blanco has had several shooting scrapes and bears an unsavory reputation. The parents of Hunt, who live in England, have been notified of their son's death.

HE HAD A MANIA.

And His Wife Thought a Stop Should Be Put to It.

A policeman on West Madison street was accused yesterday by a man, and woman, whose eyes were full of unshed tears.

"I wish," she said, "that you would go to the second floor of that building over there and arrest a big redheaded man who will find there."

"Who is he, and what has he been doing?"

"He is my husband. Doing? What hasn't he been doing? You know that times are hard, I reckon; well, they're harder in our house than anywhere else in the state of Illinois. The whole family's down with diphtheria except the old man and me. The old man has a mania for collecting swords and other weapons. That wasn't right when we had money in the house and no sickness, but now he's out of work and it's going to ruin us. The other day I gave him $2 to go to the drug store and buy medicine, and he came home with an old claymore about three feet long that he said Lochiel was carrying when the wizard appeared to him."

"Didn't he bring the medicine?"

"No, he didn't. I lectured him and gave him $2 more to go on the same errand, and in three hours he came back carrying a Persian scimitar that you might have sliced off the head of a rhinoceros with. He said it was the same scimitar that Mustapha used to carry. The next day I let him have money to go up town to pay the rent. I didn't see him again until night, but in the middle of the afternoon a dray backed up to the curb and unloaded a cask of Zulu spears and a bundle of Italian scabbards."

"You are very unfortunate, madam."

"Unfortunately! That's not the word. Next time that I had to have medicine I went after it myself, but while I was away my husband took away the book stove on a wheelbarrow and traded it for the knife that Charlotte Corday used to carve Marat. He is now anxious to get hold of the pillow with which the princess was smothered in the tower of London, and if you don't go over and buy it for him, he will be cutting away the bedclothes and the family Bible."

"I am sorry to say," said the policeman, shuddering a red tear, "that I have not the authority to arrest him. If you could get him to a attack you with the scimitar or shoot poisoned arrows into the furniture, I should consider it a pleasure to lock him up."—Chicago Tribune.

Not So Mad as That.

In a small Connecticut town a few years ago the constable's small son, who was a little man, had to assist a keeper in taking a madman to the county asylum.

The latter had been at times very violent, and being a strong man was much feared.

After coaxing him from his house to the station they got him aboard the train, and he tried to inspire him with fear so as to make the journey safer.

He told the madman many thrilling incidents of the constable's strength and bravery, lastly adding that he knew no fear, that he would go into a lion's den.

The madman eyed the constable's meager personage contemptuously and quietly said, "Yes, he might—when the lions were out."—London Answer.

of pipe down the lake, with no revenue
to be had from it and no immediate prospect of any. There will be no increase of fire protection, except to a few houses on the hill, and no reduction in rates.So far The Herald has been presuming that the interest upon the water bonds, until such time as sufficient revenue is secured from the new system,
will be raised by direct levy upon the city, but there does appear to be a serious legal question how the interest on this issue of bonds is to be provided for,
when the legislature has declared that the bonds shall only be a lien upon the waterworks which shall be constructed by them, and not a part of the general indebtedness, and when everyone knows that the proposed system will yield no
revenue at present or in the near future.
Is it not time that the people paid some attention to the manner in which the city's debt is being increased and the rate of taxation raised yearly, and that they called a halt in the course that is being pursued?Make a Strong Protest.
The Herald's Washington correspondent yesterday reported that a determined attempt is being made by Republican and Democratic congressmen to form a combination in either the house or senate, or both, to effect the defeat of the provision in the Wilson tariff bill placing iron ore on the free list, and that some astute congressmen are of opinion that the plan will succeed. "It cannot be hoped," he added, "whether Representative Baldwin will go into the scheme or not."This shows that Maj. Baldwin is still perched upon the fence in regard to this question and is awaiting word from Duluth as to the desire of the people. He has said that if the people want him to vote against free iron ore he will do so,
but claims he has not yet been notified
by the people that such is their wish.
The meeting to be held at the city hall at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon has been called to adopt a protest against free iron ore and to prepare a memorial to Maj. Baldwin urging him to oppose any interference with the existing tariff on iron ore.The call for the meeting was issued by prominent Democrats, and therefore it is not a partisan move on the part of Republicans. There should be a large attendance of citizens, and the protest against free iron ore should be made as strong as possible. Maj. Baldwin should be informed that the people of Duluth,
both Democrats and Republicans, oppose free iron ore and expect him to fulfill his ante-election pledge and vote against it.An Oakland, Cal., woman a few months

The American Newspaper Habit.

Harper's Weekly: The announcement that one of the street car lines in this city is to be lighted with gas lamps of many candle power, so that passengers may read newspapers as they ride, must be suggestive of our American newspaper habit to the foreign observer. To people who have not contracted that habit the frequent complaints of travelers by rail, in the city or out of it, that they cannot see to read their papers,
must appear exceedingly unreasonable.
A visiting Bostonian Brahmin, reading
such a plaintive denunciation in a New York newspaper, wrathfully exclaimed: "The American people read too many newspapers. If the railroads made it impossible for the complaining workmen to read his confounded newspaper in the early gray of the morning on his way to work, they would do the state some service."

Do Preachers Sing So?

St. Louis Globe Democrat: Why a preacher should sing differently from other people is a mystery, but they all do. Everyone who has heard preachers sing knows that there is a queer twang
about the clerical voice when used in singing that is rarely heard save among preachers and very old members who have attended church so long that they have caught the preacher's tone. This difference is not so much in style as in the variations that a preacher never fails to introduce, and once heard, can never be mistaken.

The Injustice of It.

Iron Trade Review: Hard ores have been used in which the Cuban product not displace them, and the injustice of the Wilson bill is that it makes the steam shovel mining of soft ores the basis of its provisions as to all iron ore and practically throws the hard ore business of the country into the hands of the Cuban mining companies.

Not Strong Enough.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch: It is said that prohibition coffee houses are failing because there is no kindling in them. "Smutty men, weary with toil, dirty of clothing, sensitive about personal reflections, will not patronize these places." "The prohibition of coffee
isn't strong enough for a man accustomed to beer and whisky. The prohibition coffee house that is to draw habit-ual drinkers must use a dash of alcohol.
Kindness will help, but don't forget the alcoholic ingredient."

A Rose for Debutantes.

St. Louis Republic: A new rose,
which was shown for the first time to me,
will be used expressly for debutantes,
and is called the Sibrecht belle and will not be put on the market for two years
yet. It is a dark rich pink, combining the light shades of the American beauty and a suggestion of deep damask. It does not blossom out big, but retains always the shape of a ball blown rose. Its perfume resembles that of the tea rose.

An Improbable Story.

THE FAIR AT ANTWERP

Duluth Should be Represented at the Next World's Fair to be Held in Belgium.

The United States Will Have a Building of Its Own for Exhibiting Home Products.

Belgium is an Importer of American Articles. Principally Wheat, Corn, Flour and Other Products.

The next great World's fair will be held in the city of Antwerp, Belgium, in the summer of 1894. This exposition will open May 5 and close Nov. 12, and will include industrial, scientific and artistic productions, as well as all kinds of commercial products, embracing, in fact, the whole range of human activity. It will also comprise maritime, colonial and African sections and an exhibit of military art.

Simultaneously with the general exhibition, the Antwerp Royal Society of Fine Arts will hold a special exhibition of paintings, sculpture, engraving and architecture, which will be open to the artists of the world, and it is also intended to hold a series of shows and exhibits of live stock, agricultural products, flowers, fruits, etc.

The site selected for the grounds and buildings covers about an area of 200 acres. It is located in the new quarter of the city, near the River Scheldt. This new quarter was formed and added to the city of Antwerp by the government which removed the fortifications that surrounded the city and replaced them by a more extended belt of forts at a greater distance from the center of the city. The main buildings are very extensive, covering some 1,100,000 square feet and include halls for exhibiting industrial and commercial products, machinery and electrical appliances, also a festival hall measuring some 24,000 square feet and are all built of steel and iron and roofed with zinc.

This exposition is of special interest to the citizens of Duluth, as the city of Antwerp, from its geographical position as the great distributing port of Central Europe, offers special facilities for an exposition calculated to increase the export trade in breadstuffs of the United States. Statistics show that during the year 1892 the exports to Belgium from the United States amounted to $4,785,117, while the exports from that country amounted to only $10,273,061, while preponderance of exports was largely composed of breadstuffs and provisions. The milling industry of the United States and Canada will be largely represented at Antwerp, many of the mills of Antwerp in Europe, and takes the lion's share of the American shipments to the continent of Europe.

Foreign exhibits arriving by the Belgian state railways will be returned free over the same lines, and negotiations have been opened with the other lines and transportation companies looking toward the same arrangement. Rates from New York to Antwerp by the Red Star line will be 15 shillings plus 5 percent per ton of 40 cubic feet or of 2240 pounds, ship's option, including freight with the port of Antwerp. For one way only the rate will be 10 shillings plus 5 percent, and special rates will be made for passengers. All foreign goods will be admitted to the exposition in bond, paying no duty of any kind if re-exported.

The American propaganda, a corporation organized for the purpose of creating, encouraging and extending commercial relations between the United States and foreign countries through the medium of international exhibitions, is the direct outgrowth of the Chicago exposition, and its object is principally to act as commercial agent for exhibitors and save to them the great expense attending participation in an exposition held in a foreign country. The building to be erected by the propaganda will occupy a prominent position directly facing the main entrance to the exposition grounds and will be one of the exhibits from the United States that have been displayed at all the exhibitions held abroad hitherto.

Capt. Henri De Witt, formerly of Antwerp, quoting from a letter of the secretary of honorary commission of the United States to the Antwerp International exhibition, said: "The present outlook gives promise of a display of American products at the Antwerp exposition, larger and more comprehensive than at any international exposition held abroad. For the first time in the history of foreign exhibitions the United States will be represented by a separate building of its own, in which provision will be made for representative state exhibits," and, added Capt. De Witt, "I am in hopes that Duluth will be fully represented at the coming exposition, as Antwerp being such an important flour and grain market that it cannot fail to be of benefit to her milling industries and grain business."

AMUSEMENTS.

Walker Whiteside.
The attraction at the Temple Opera house tomorrow night will be the young but already eminent tragedian, Walker Whiteside. When he several months ago went into New York the critics, who had sharpened their pencils to score the aspiring tragedian, were amazed at the ability that he displayed and it was at once conceded in Walker Whiteside there are the qualities necessary to a great tragedian. Since then his success has been great everywhere.

The New York Dramatic News said of his first appearance there: "A new corner in the person of Walker Whiteside made his metropolitan debut last night at the Union Square theater, in the role of the melancholy Dane. His name and achievements, we are informed, are quite familiar to Western theater-goers, but his fame has not preceded him here; in fact, it is quite safe to say, that the majority of the audience present last night had never heard the tragedian's name before. It is, therefore, all the more gratifying to be able to chronicle the degree of success which this venture some stranger has achieved on his first appearance before a New York audience and to predict that his indisputable histrionic ability will win for him the recognition he deserves. He is eminently fitted, both by reason of physical endowment and evident culture, for the interpretation of Shakespearean roles. He has a presence that cannot fail to challenge attention, a sympathetic, well-modulated voice, admirable in enunciation and a manner that is graceful, natural and convincing. His assumption of the part while in the main adhering faithfully and even strictly to tradition, nevertheless bears evidence of careful study, even to the minutest detail, and demonstrates in no few particulars the possession of independence of thought and conception eminently gratifying. His success with the audience they received done books, penknives, cups, saucers, candy and, popcorn, was wholly satisfying to them.

Capt. Henri De Witt, formerly of Antwerp, quoting from a letter of the secretary of honorary commission of the United States to the Antwerp International exhibition, said: "The present outlook gives promise of a display of American products at the Antwerp exposition, larger and more comprehensive than at any international exposition held abroad. For the first time in the history of foreign exhibitions the United States will be represented by a separate building of its own, in which provision will be made for representative state exhibits," and, added Capt. De Witt, "I am in hopes that Duluth will be fully represented at the coming exposition, as Antwerp being such an important flour and grain market that it cannot fail to be of benefit to her milling industries and grain business."

AROUND THE HOTELS.

Already the Politicians Are Talking About the State Offices.

Hon. August T. Koerner, of Litchfield, is at the Spaulding. Mr. Koerner was in the house of representatives last session and was a good friend to Duluth. He said this morning that ex-Speaker Lee, of Long Prairie, was out for the state auditorship and counted on getting good support from Duluth. Bob Dunn is also out for some state office and it is whispered round that the Hon. August would not mind being state treasurer himself.

"I should be sorry to see a strike on the Northern Pacific railroad," said a gentleman who is closely identified with that road, "but I am afraid that some of the hotbeds will precipitate a row. There are a good many men who have worked for the road for so long that they almost consider that they have vested interests in their positions and as they have never known what it is to be hard up, they are difficult to handle at this crisis."

"In choosing our next mayor," said a large taxpayer today, "we want to get a man who has some ideas of economy and who will pay attention to the duties of his office, not solely for his own personal aggrandizement, nor just to oblige his friends, but because it is his duty so to do. We also want a man who is liberal and advanced in his ideas."

TRYING TO GET LOW RATES.

The Effort to Secure the National Educational Convention.

Secretary Buchanan, of the jobbers' union, is still hard at work trying to get concessions from the different railroads for the National Educational association meeting. The road that has shown the most friendly spirit to Duluth is the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic. The Eastern connection, the Canadian Pacific road. In a letter to Agent Larke, General Passenger Agent Hibbard says that all the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic and the Canadian Pacific railroad will give a single fare rate for membership, and will endeavor to induce all their New England connections to do the same. These roads will also ask all roads connecting with them to make the same rate. This includes the New York connections.

The Wisconsin Central and the Northern Pacific roads have promised a single fare rate, but the Northwestern, Great Northern and the Omaha are seemingly indifferent to the appeals and interests of Duluth. Of the steamship lines, the Lake Superior and Lake Michigan line to Milwaukee and Chicago and the Buffalo line have given the rate requested. The Buffalo line have made no response yet.

Secretary Buchanan is working upon this matter with commendable zeal and energy and it will be no fault of his if suitable arrangements cannot be made with all the roads, which enter and have connections with Duluth.

THE RAILROAD WORLD.

Preparations For Double Tracking the Missabe Road.

Preparations are being rapidly pushed for commencing the work of double tracking the main line of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern from Duluth to Iron Junction. The Great Western Employment agency are daily shipping makers up the road, twenty-five going in one bunch this morning.

E. C. Long, of St. Paul, a contractor for fences and poles on the St. Paul & Duluth road is in the city.

A. M. Smith, assistant superintendent of the Duluth & Iron Range road, was in the city today.

As regards the expected strike on the Northern Pacific the local press has nothing to say except that they will be guided by the determination of the committee of the road. Everything is going on regularly here, but the men are bitterly opposed to the sweeping nature of the proposed reductions in pay.

All the local trains are beginning to arrive on time once again.

Dr. and Mrs. Courtney, of Brainerd, were in the city today enroute to Houghton and Marquette. Dr. Courtney is head doctor for the Northern Pacific railroad and is deservedly popular with all classes.

WHEAT AND FLOUR STOCKS.

The Production of the Mills at the Head of the Lake.

The Northwestern Miller reports the stock of wheat in private elevators of Minneapolis at 997,000 bushels, 10,000 bushels less than last Monday. The Market Report estimates the stock of wheat in country elevators of Minnesota and the two Dakotas at 6,724,000 bushels, an increase for the week of 105,000 bushels. This makes the total Northwestern stock 28,810,643 bushels or 412,300 bushels more than last week.

The Miller says that the mills at Duluth and Superior last week produced 46,600 barrels of flour against 30,222 barrels the preceding week, 15,378 for the corresponding time in 1892 and 8,411 in 1891. Business was stimulated by declining freight rates. Prices of mill products are not changed. The mills have been troubled about getting enough wheat from current receipts, so light have the latter been. The demand for patent flour has been good, while mill stock has commanded a ready sale.

The export shipments were 7,300 barrels against 11,929 barrels the week before. The stock of flour in store amounts to 25,500 barrels against 41,011 the week before and 27,500 in 1892. There are five mills in operation representing 11,500 barrels capacity.

FRAUD CHARGED

Application Made at Milwaukee Today For the Removal of the Three Northern Pacific Receivers.

The Stockholders Allege That Gross Frauds Have Been Committed and the Property Badly Managed.

Serious Charges Made Against Villard, Oakes, Abbott, Colby and Rolston For Bleeding the Road.

Oakes Called Unfit to be Receiver and the Removal of the Three Receivers Asked.

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 28.—A highly sensational turn was given to the Northern Pacific railroad receivership situation today, when Hon. Silas W. Pettit, of Philadelphia, the general counsel of the corporation, appeared before Judge Jenkins in the United States circuit court for the Eastern district of Wisconsin and filed a petition for the removal of the present receivers, Thomas F. Oakes, Henry C. Payne and Henry C. Rolston, and for the appointment of other receivers in their place.

Not a hint of this extraordinary and unprecedented move on the part of the company had been allowed to become public property, and even the court was in ignorance of the motion about to be made when the eminent lawyer from the Quaker City stepped to the bar. As soon, however, as the nature of his application became known about the building, the court room was quickly filled by members of the bar and the case in turn was soon reinforced by citizens interested in Northern Pacific affairs.

The petition in extent is exceedingly voluminous, covering 200 typewritten pages on legal cap. It makes serious and sensational charges against Receiver and ex-President Thomas F. Oakes, Henry Villard and Roswell G. Rolston, president of the Farmers' Loan and Trust company of New York, at the instance of which company the bill for a receiver was filed. No charges are made, however, against Receivers Payne and Rolston, and their names are included in the general petition for removal solely because they were named by the certificate against whom the proceedings are directed and are consequently assumed to be subject to, and working under the control of that influence.

Summarized, the road applied for a change of receivers on the ground that the time the receivers were appointed it practically had no hearing; that its managers had with the interest of $600,000 for properties which were of no value to it, but in many of which they were personally interested, and out of which they made large profits, and that when the insolvency produced by this fraud and mismanagement came, the president of the company and the president of the trust company, who had participated in the fraud and mismanagement, colluded together to put the road in the hands of receivers who were nominated for the purpose of carrying out the effect of perpetuating the same control which had brought about the bankruptcy.

"In light of these facts," said the counsel, "it is plain that it will be impossible to reorganize the road unless and until its control and management is put in the hands of competent people, and as the Oakes management has shown conclusively that it cannot be trusted, it would seem impossible to reorganize it until it is taken out of their hands. Certainly it cannot be expected that the stockholders or the bondholders of the Northern Pacific Railroad company will supply the money needed for its reorganization so long as it continues under the control of men who have already squandered such enormous sums as did the Oakes-Rolston management, and hence it is that the petition prays for the appointment of new receivers, who are not in any manner identified with or chosen by them."

In brief, the petition sets out that Thomas F. Oakes was elected president of the company in October, 1889, by the board of directors that was then elected and was re-elected for three years in October, 1890, and that Mr. Oakes as president of the company appointed Roswell G. Rolston, the president of the Farmers' Loan and Trust company, which is trustee of most of the main and branch line mortgages of the Northern Pacific Railroad company, chairman of the finance committee of said board.

The petition then states that when said Oakes-Rolston board took charge of the Northern Pacific property it was in good financial condition and in high credit; that it had $2,000,000 in cash in its treasury and a like amount of current supplies on hand, and that its surplus earnings for the first half of the fiscal year commencing June, 1889, amounted to about $1,500,000, that in addition to the division mortgages and the first, second and third general mortgages (amounting to about $75,000,000), which were all the fixed charges of the main line at that time, the Northern Pacific Railroad company was also liable for the payment of bonds of twenty-one branch lines amounting in the aggregate to about $26,000,000 and that for the purpose, among other things of taking up these bonds and branch line bonds, and of building such other branches as might be necessary for the development of the business of the company, the consolidated mortgage was authorized by the stockholders to secure $100,000,000 of bonds, intended to and believed to be sufficient to pay off all the existing main and branch line bonds and to provide for all the future purposes of the road for many years to come, and so that the said Oakes-Rolston board started off with a paying property, a large sum in cash on hand and with consolidated mortgage bonds to draw upon with which to meet all expenses which should be properly chargeable to capital account, and of which the stockholders subscribed for and took $12,000,000, and so that the said board "should, and in fact did, have ample capital with which to conduct and properly develop the business of the company."

The petition then goes on to show how the Oakes-Rolston board managed to increase the interest charges of the Northern Pacific Railroad company for branch lines from $400,000 to upward of $850,000, all in one year and for the acquisition of properties no one of which, (except a small line costing less than $1,000,000) ever has paid the cost of operation and fixed charges, and many of which do not even pay the cost of operation, and the petition further charges that in several instances, and those the most disastrous to the company, the officers and board of directors were themselves interested in selling the properties to the Northern Pacific company at an exorbitant profit to themselves.

The story of the wreck of the Northern Pacific Railroad company is then set out in great detail, naming particularly each of the railroads which were purchased or leased and their bonds guaranteed, or otherwise acquired by the Northern Pacific company, and which completed its ruin within one year of the Oakes-Rolston board getting into power. Of the $200,000,000 of bonds that were set aside for new branch lines, there were expended for additional construction on old branch lines $5,285,000 of consolidated mortgage bonds, none of which extensions paid the cost of operation and fixed charges, and $12,225,000 of said bonds were expended for the construction and acquisition of lines of railroad which do not pay the cost of operation and in most of which, notably the United railroads of Washington, the Rocky Fork & Cooke City railroad and the Northern Pacific & Manitoba railroad, some of the board of directors were personally and directly interested.

The petition avers that in the construction of the United railroads of Washington the members of the board derived a profit of $175,000. The petition avers that the Rocky Fork & Cooke City railroad was owned by a syndicate called the "Rocky Fork Coal trust," of which Villard was president and which cost the Northern Pacific company $1,000,000. It is charged that out of the Northern Pacific railroad deal, the directors made a profit to themselves of $2,000,000. Similar charges are made in regard to the purchase of the Seattle, Lake Shore and Eastern railroad.

In respect to the Chicago & Northern Pacific Railroad company, the petition avers at length and in detail the complicated and dishonest manner in which it was committed upon the Northern Pacific Railroad company. Specific charges are made against Abbott, Colby and Hoyt, and also against Henry Villard, Oakes and Rolston. It is charged that Oakes is unfit to manage or control the Northern Pacific property as president or receiver.

An order has been issued by Judge Jenkins to show cause why it should not be granted. Attorneys are now preparing the order which will be presented to Judge Jenkins for his signature. It is probable that the court will fix a time within which the receivers shall reply to the petition. If the application is referred to a master, Messrs Oakes and Rolston will be examined in oath regarding the charges made against them. Henry Villard is at present abroad.

On Jan. 4 the newly wedded couple will leave New York on the steamer Russia for Hamburg. Four or five months will be spent traveling in Europe.

Investing in Duluth Realty.

A meeting was held in the Palladium building last night which was attended by a majority of the responsible real estate men in the city. The subject under discussion was the means to be taken to draw attention to the desirability of investments in Duluth real estate. A committee was appointed with power to take such measures as they might deem expedient, and the meeting adjourned to await the report of the committee. This new organization has no connection at all with the real estate exchange.

Homeless Children.

Thomas Clark, superintendent of poor, has given out four Finnish children by the name of Sample from Dr. French, Liwakik, and has placed them in the children's home in this city until they can be taken to the state school. There are three girls and one boy and they range from 2½ to 10 years of age, all being very bright looking children. Their mother is dead and their father is a drunkard.

Taxpayers of Gravesend Have Been Looking Into His Very Peculiar Business Methods as Supervisor.

Public Money Spent to Transport Voters to and From the Polls on Election Day.

Believe They Have Found Evidence of Criminal Malfeasance Covering a Large Period of Years.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—The Times this morning publishes a two-column article attacking John Y. McKane's methods of doing business as supervisor of the town of Gravesend. The Times says that a number of taxpayers of the town have been looking over the official records of Gravesend and have made a number of astonishing discoveries. They have organized an association for the purpose of conducting a further investigation into the accounts.

It is claimed that hundreds of dollars of public money have been spent for what the charges call "meats" for inspectors of election, poll clerks and other election officials. It is further charged that large amounts of the public money have been spent to transport voters to and from the polls on election day, and even were the expenditures for such a purpose as bringing voters to the polls legal, the charges are grossly exorbitant.

The taxpayers further find that the public treasury has been drawn upon for large sums of money to pay Richard V. R. Norton and George W. Roderick counsel fees, with no record of what services they rendered for the money.

It is stated that all the wagons and hacks which were used on election days when the charges are made for transporting voters to the polls, were covered with strips of canvas on which was painted in large letters "John Y. McKane."

The Times declares that as the examiners of the records delve deeper into the documents and books, they discover more and more evidence of the careless manner in which business has been conducted and the members of the Citizens' association believe that they have already discovered evidence of criminal malfeasance on the part of the town official covering a large period of years.

The Iron Trade Shows Continued Better Symptoms.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 28.—The Iron Trade Review says today: "With the time for balancing the year's business only a few days off, nothing is to be looked for in the iron trade but more pronounced quietness. Surmises as to what may be expected for the opening of the new year take the place of the usual staple of market gossip. There is an agreement in the general statement, that an expansion into anything like the old time demand need not be looked for in sixty or ninety days or in twice that time; but that larger call for iron and steel products than has been known at any time in the past six months may reasonably be expected early in the year, and that this will tend to increase."

"That producing capacity, in the whole range of material, will continue for some time at much more than adequate to consumptive demand, is evident, since most new enterprises will wait upon the new tariff act. Yet the accumulation of recalcitrant demands in these months of stagnation ought to insure a continuance of the better symptoms noted in December; but the market will creep before it walks."

THE GOVERNMENT DEFEATED.

The Quebec Ministry Gets a Setback in the Legislature.

QUEBEC, Dec. 28.—The provincial government, received a setback in the upper house of the legislature last night. The Beaupre asylum bill, which passed the legislative assembly by a substantial majority, came up for discussion in the legislative council and was opposed by Hon. Mr. Archambault for the opposition.

Hon. Mr. Chapais, government leader, followed in his favor. A vote was then taken resulting a tie, ten against ten, and the government was thus defeated on the measure. Premier Taillon is furious at the attitude taken by the council towards the government. The latter will not change its policy, but will maintain the present arrangement for another year in the hope that a favorable change may occur in the ranks of the opposition members of the council.

She Was an Author.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 28.—Mrs. Margaret Martin, relict of the late Wm. Martin, one of the most eminent women in the Methodist Episcopal church South, and author of many books on Methodism, died in this city last night. She was born in Scotland in 1807.

A Prosperous Condition.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—Henry Clausen, Jr., the well-known brewer, died this morning at 5 o'clock. He had been suffering from liver trouble.

MAE McDONALD ARRESTED.

It Was Claimed She Was About to Leave the State.

It is not commonly known that a person can be arrested for debt in the state of Minnesota, but under certain conditions such is the fact. In the history of Sheriff Sharpy's connection with his office, there have been only two such cases. The third has just been experienced.

Yesterday E. C. Wallinder made an affidavit for the appearance of Mae McDonald, alleging that she was about to leave the state and demanding that she leave bonds for her appearance in court during the pendency of the suit and that she be ordered not to transfer any of her property. Judge Ensign, in accordance with the affidavit, ordered the defendant's arrest and appearance in court.

Mae McDonald is the proprietress of the disorderly house at the West Duluth brickyard and it has been thought that she was about to sell out and move to West Superior. Deputy Sheriff Hansen was assigned the task of apprehending Mae. He proceeded to her house but, finding her absent in New Duluth, was compelled to take possession and await her return. She appeared in a few hours and was promptly taken into custody and escorted to the county jail. She was an angry woman too, and was the perfect picture of injured innocence as she bemoaned the disgrace and asserted that it was the first time she was ever locked up.

This morning the matter came up before Judge Ensign and he appointed Scott Rex referee, with powers to make a disclosure as to the defendant's belongings.

The amount involved is $135.25, and an execution issued was returned unsatisfied yesterday, previous to the making of the affidavit for an appearance.

In the case of Patrick J. Dowlin vs. the Merchants Hotel company, in which suit was brought for recovery on a wholesale bill of liquor, the defendant has filed an offer of judgment in the sum of $342.12, and asks that the plaintiff take nothing except tendered and that the case be otherwise dismissed.

The Northern Hydraulic Press Brick company has sued Christianson & Lindes et al., for the recovery of $83.61 alleged to be due on a bill of brick. In the case of Fred Hencke vs. William Twomey et al., Judge Lewis today filed findings and conclusions. He decides that the plaintiff is absolutely over in fee simple of the ½ of lot 28, block 5, Central division of Duluth, and issues a decree of judgment quieting the title, together with costs in the case.

From the Smith Ranch.

A special car containing about twenty-five passengers, mostly of the Dutch brand, came in today over the Omaha. They were all unloaded, fed, and then corralled in the Spaulding lobby. Seven unbranded mavericks were then cut out of the bunch, taken to Tom Pressnell's office, where his accomplished deputy turned them into prospective citizens and they were returned to the corral. Shortly after the whole band was started on a lode towards Uncle Sam's farm factory, and turned into land claimants. The ear rack on them was the same as the droves lately brought in from Buffalo and Minneapolis, but the hip brand varied in some cases. The outfit however is said to belong to the C. W. Smith ranch.

The Union Celebration.

The last meeting has been held by the committee on the ceremonies attendant upon the union of Duluth and West Duluth, which takes place at the High School assembly hall, at 8 p. m., on Saturday night. The program will consist of music, songs by the Glee club, addresses by Mayors Martin and d'Auremont, an oration by C. A. Towne, an address by Dr. Salter, closing with a rendition of "The Star Spangled Banner," by the band, accompanied by all in the audience who can sing the time. Entrance to the hall will be free to all, and a large attendance may be expected upon this interesting occasion.

After Stokes' Head.

According to the Washington correspondent of the Globe, the appointment of a Wisconsin man to be immigrant agent at the port of Duluth has not been allowed to subside by Congressman Baldwin. He is still hammering away at the treasury officials, and thinks he has finally arrived at the point where it is safe to predict that either the office will be abolished, or that the Wisconsin man will be transferred to other fields.

TO SUCCEED CARNOT

The Election of a President of the French Republic is Now the Leading Question.

Election is by a Majority of the National Assembly, Composed of Senate and Deputies.

The Prospects at Present Are Very Favorable to the Re-election of President Sadi-Carnot.

PARIS, Dec. 28.—In political circles the election of a president of the republic to succeed President Carnot has become the leading question of the hour. The election is still at least ten months away, and the latest time at which the national assembly can meet to decide the question is November, 1894. President Carnot's term expires on Jan. 1, 1895, he having taken the office on Jan. 1, 1888. In France the president is not elected as in the United States, but by an absolute majority of the national assembly which is composed of the senate and chamber of deputies meeting as one body.

The Kappel is endeavoring to estimate what chances President Carnot has of re-election. The paper estimates that out of 300 now composing the senate two-thirds can be relied upon to support the candidacy of President Carnot. The estimate is, however, wanting in accuracy in that it is beyond the real realm of possibility that the entire elective senate as present constituted will be returned at the coming senatorial election.

The electoral colleges which are to select senators for re-election will be composed of the senate and chamber of deputies meeting as one body. His best opportunity for re-election will be found in the disgraced or obscure to which his opponents have been brought in rapid succession. Ribot, Floquet, Constans and Freycinet are no longer in his way. Those whom he has not outworked he has outlived. He has elevated himself through the demerits of his opponents whose dissolution have almost invariably resulted in shattering the highest hopes of their members. Yet in none of these political crises has the president compromised himself.

Many persons begin to think him too clever and secretive to be trusted again with his high office, but few of those opposing his re-election to be president of the republic have an answer to the question who else among the survivors of the Panama scandal is available for his place.

M. Cassimir Perier, the premier, is almost the only other active statesman who was neither discredited nor embarrassed, although M. Dupuy is mentioned occasionally as a possible rival. Cassimir Perier's brief career in the premiership and Dupuy's short term in the presidency of the chamber may give either of them a slight chance of re-election.

Very Favorable Words. MILWAUKEE, Dec. 28.—The Vorwarts, the organ of the Socialists, is terribly enraged against Judge Jenkins for restraining the Northern Pacific employees from striking. In commenting upon the judge's forcible and arrogant language, "Judge Jenkins should have lived 120 years ago. He would then have probably issued an injunction forbidding the colonists to begin the revolution. It is very questionable whether the judge, in the case of a revolution, could issue a just order of prohibition of the people from hanging him."

Stove Works Closed. KALAMAZOO, Mich., Dec. 28.—The South Haven stove works and foundry have closed down indefinitely owing to the prevailing business stagnation. The closing down will be seriously felt in South Haven.

The Human Electrical Forces

How They Control the Organs of the Body.

The electrical force of the human body, as the nerve fluid may be termed, is an especially attractive department of science, as its secrets so marked an influence on the health of the organs of the body. Nerve force is produced by the brain and conveyed by means of the nerves to the various organs of the body, thus supplying the latter with the vitality necessary to insure their health. The pneumo-gastric nerve, as shown here, may be said to be the most important of the entire nerve system, as it supplies the heart, lungs, stomach, bowels, etc., with the nerve force necessary to keep them active and healthy. As will be seen by the cut the long nerve descending from the base of the brain and terminating in the bowels is the pneumo-gastric, while the numerous little branches supply the heart, lungs and stomach with necessary vitality. When the brain becomes in any way disordered by irritability or exhaustion, the nerve force which it supplies is lessened, and the organs receiving the diminished supply are consequently weakened.

Physicians generally fail to recognize the importance of this fact, and treat the organ itself instead of the cause of the trouble. The noted specialist, Frank M. Miles, M. D., has given the greater part of his life to the study of this subject, and his discoveries concerning the nerve fluid, the "Miles' Restorative," by which the brain and nerve fluid, is prepared on the principle that all the difficulties originate from disorders of the nerve centers. His wonderful cures in these disorders is testified to by scores of grateful patients.

Restorative Nerve cures sleeplessness, nervous prostration, dizziness, hysteria, sexual debility, St. Vitus' dance, etc. It is sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid.

HAS A CLAIM FOR DAMAGES.

A Maine Captain Who Was Badly Treated in Brazil.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 28.—The schooner Grace Andrews, Capt. John Andrews of Thompson, Maine, arrived here yesterday from Natal, Brazil, and Capt. Andrews has a grievance against Peixoto's government on which he proposes to collect damages through the state department.

For six months past Capt. Andrews has been cruising along the Brazilian coast, trying to pick up a cargo. In November he anchored his schooner a short distance below Rio Janeiro and started in a small boat with three of his men for the Brazilian capital where he proposed to pay a visit to his brother, who is a merchant there.

As Capt. Andrews sailed into the bay of Rio, one of Peixoto's patrol boats came alongside and without any parley ordered him to pull towards shore. As resistance would have been useless the Americans did as they were ordered, and when they got ashore they were marched to the castle of Santa Cruz and imprisoned in dungeons.

Capt. Andrews says the cells they were put in were horrible places, damp and cold and overrun with rats, lizards and snakes. They were kept at the castle for twenty-five hours and then marched into the city. As they were being led through the streets Capt. Andrews met his brother and explained the matter to him. His brother at once secured his release from the authorities. When set at liberty the Brazilians offered no explanation for having arrested Capt. Andrews and his men.

BRANDED AS FALSE.

Governor Penney's Story of Distress in Oregon Denied.

SALEM, Ore., Dec. 28.—At a called meeting of the board of trade and citizens held at the parlors of the Willamette hotel, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, the governor of the state of Oregon has abused the official position conferred upon him by the people by addressing to the president of the United States a letter containing certain statements injurious to the commonwealth and calculated to create an erroneous impression in the minds of those not acquainted with facts, thereby deterring those who might contribute to the prosperity of the state by engaging in productive industries here; therefore,

Resolved, That we, the board of trade and business men of Salem, most emphatically deny the statements of the governor and brand his statements as false, and aver that notwithstanding the prevailing depression there is no widespread destitution or actual want in Oregon, and that the governor's claiming that one-third of our people are wholly unemployed while one-third are without means of sustenance, is guilty of gross misrepresentation, and we request our representatives in congress, to present these resolutions to the president of the United States, and to deny both in the senate and house the truth of the governor's statements. While admitting that Oregon is suffering from the prevailing hard times, we confidently claim that there is less poverty here in proportion to the population than there is in any other state in the Union and the prospects for the future are excellent.

IS CRUMBLING TO PIECES.

The Brazilian Minister Claims the Rebellion is Nearly Over.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—"The insurrection in Brazil," said Minister Mendonca today, "is fast crumbling to pieces. The manifesto of Admiral Gama declaring in favor of a monarchy is working great injury to the insurgents' cause. Many of the rank and file among the rebels are strong Republicans and are deserting Mello at every opportunity. Of course the monarchical sentiment is more friendly to the rebellion than it was before Gama's manifesto, but these are comparatively few in number and the result of the manifesto has tended to weaken rather than to improve their prospects."

"There was never any hope for Mello and his followers unless they received aid from Europe. There is no indication that the rebels will receive no substantial assistance from that quarter. Mello is crushing up and down the coast in his flagship, but he is accomplishing nothing. The latest dispatches report that he has gone to the Island of Fernando de Noronha, which is the Pottery bay of Brazil, in other words, an island where about 1000 convicts are quartered. He has gone there to gain recruits. This shows that Mello is desperate and it proves conclusively the failure of his efforts to secure any additions to his ranks of the people of Brazil."

The steamer America, I am advised, will arrive at one of the northern ports of Brazil on Friday. Two days later she will join the Niteroy, which is now at Pernambuco awaiting her arrival. Their movements from that time are uncertain, but the government will no doubt make excellent use of their services."

A GENEROUS CONTRIBUTION.

Andrew Carnegie Will Give $300,000 for the Unemployed.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—A special to the Press from Pittsburgh, Pa., says: A letter was received in this city yesterday from Andrew Carnegie, addressed to Robert Pitcairn, of the Pennsylvania railroad, who is associated with other prominent citizens here on the relief committee to provide work for the unemployed.

Mr. Carnegie offers to give, if the people of Pittsburgh will contribute an equal sum, $500,000 a working day for two months. This means a contribution from Mr. Carnegie of nearly $300,000.

BANDITS IN MEXICO

People of a Border Town in a Feverish State of Excitement Over a Possible Raid.

A Band of Revolutionists Said to be Going to Nogales to Loot the Customs House.

At Present There is Over $150,000 in the Collector's Hands, Which the Bandits Want.

NOGALES, Ariz., Dec. 28.—Nogales, Mex., has been in a feverish state of excitement since Tuesday night over a rumor that a band of revolutionists were headed this way for the purpose of looting the Mexican customs house at this place. The band is said to number about fifty and it is claimed to be the same crowd which looted the Palomas customs house.

Lieut. Col. Kosterlitzki arrived from Magdalena with a company of rural and state troops and went into camp near the customs house. Another command of two or three companies and the commander of the department of Sonora is hourly expected. All the municipal officers in Nogales, Sonora and all the customs guards in the vicinity were on duty last night at the customs house and a force of special officers slept there.

At present there is over $150,000 in the collector's possession and it is thought that this is the reason for the proposed raid. Americans at once telegraphed the situation of affairs to Governor Hughes and asked that he take steps to prevent the passage of soldiers here and there. As Nogales, Sonora, and Nogales, Arizona, are divided only by a narrow strip, the people on the American side would be in considerable danger should hostilities open up on the Mexican side. The opinion prevails that the trouble is caused by desperate bandits who have in view only robbery and pillage.

A Soldier Killed. LEAVENWORTH, Kas., Dec. 28.—A row occurred yesterday evening between several soldiers, during which Frank Wilson, of Company F, Thirtieth infantry, received injuries which will prove fatal. He struck Private Vance over the head with his trumpet. Vance in turn hit Wilson on the left side of the head with an Indian club, crushing in his skull.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon. PITTSBURGH, Dec. 28.—The annual convention of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity began in Pittsburgh yesterday. Fifty delegates are present. Permanent officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Permanent chairman, Hon. Claudius Dockery, of North Carolina; secretary, H. C. Burger, of Boston.

A Bandit Fight. ST. LOUIS, Dec. 28.—Dan Daly, of Bangor, Me., and Al Neist, of this city, featherweights, met in a lively battle in the southern part of the city last night for a purse of $300. Neist was knocked out in the fourteenth round. It was his first professional engagement. A large crowd of local sports witnessed the mill.

Roasted to Death. LAWRENCE, Kan., Dec. 28.—A colored woman named Brown living near Sibley, left her five children with two other children alone at home Tuesday night. A big fire was built in the stove and in the night the cabin burned, and the children aged nine and eleven were roasted to death in bed.

A Foolish Youth. CHATHAM, Ont., Dec. 28.—At White Bread station, on the Erie & Huron railway, yesterday, Alfred McDougall, 33 years of age, attempted to kill his sweetheart, Ida Sutherland, whom he loved, but she had killed him. He then shot and killed himself.

WEST DULUTH ITEMS

The Village Council Spring a Surprise on the Public by Holding Another Meeting Yesterday.

Bonds to the Amount of $127,000 Issued and Shipped to Their Destination at Once.

Statement of the Recorder, Showing the Amount of Orders Issued Since April and Outstanding.

The village council held a meeting yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The special session was a surprise to all except the trustees themselves, as the previous meeting had been heralded as the last one, and the final courtesies had been extended. Yesterday's meeting was for the purpose of ordering the issuance of street improvement bonds, the assessment rolls for which were returnable on that date. The matter had been kept secret for the reason that the council had received information that certain parties in Duluth had threatened to serve an injunction against the council and prevent the issue of the bonds. So it was given out that the matter would be left for the consideration of the Duluth council. The bonds worked well, for bonds to the amount of $127,430.07 were issued yesterday and shipped to their destination without the least hint of an injunction.

Among the other matters at the meeting was the reception and placing on file of reports from the various departments of the municipality. The outstanding orders Dec. 27, 1893, were embodied in the recorder's report as follows: Balance outstanding as per report April, $83,223.87; orders issued from April 1 to Dec. 27, $363,766.57; total, $446,990.44; orders returned paid from April 1 to Dec. 27, $208,565.44. Balance orders outstanding Dec. 27, $238,425.

"RAZZAH IN DE AIR."

A lively row over possession of a Barber Shop.

There was a lively time last night after dark around the Lyceum barber shop and today Barber Bradley holds the fort in solitary state, awaiting relief or ejectment by legal process.

The difficulty arose, it is said, by the alleged inability of Bradley to pay his help. The help, so it is asserted, then obtained possession of the shop, stock and business and made a bold defiance to Bradley.

He bided his time and after dark last night appeared on the scene and attempted to move all the goods and chattels in the shop to some place, to the other claimants unknown. But he did not move it. Not much. In a few moments after Bradley arrived, Barber Connors and his merry co-sufferers arrived, also and the air was full of cravens, fists, razors and cusswords, until the police appeared and threatened to run the whole gang into the gutter for the night.

Then a truce was declared until this morning, but early today the wily Bradley obtained entrance into the shop, and, assisted by lawyers, police and claimants through the window in the door for an hour or two, waiting, as said above, to be either ejected or reinstated by due process of law. Late this afternoon it was said that a settlement was arrived at and once more there is peace.

A LIVELY SCRAP

The Citizens' Meeting This Afternoon Was One of the Liveliest Ever Held in Duluth.

Free Ore Democrats Packed the Hall Early and Organized With C. O. Baldwin as Chairman.

Then Col. Gridley and Others Who Signed the Call Arrived and the Fight Commenced.

Finally Resolutions Protesting Against Free Ore Were Adopted—Another Meeting at the Temple.

The meeting called at the city hall this afternoon for the purpose of memorializing Congressman Baldwin in the interests of retaining the tariff on iron ore opened up like a March blizzard and had bristles on it like harelbrush.

About 11:30 o'clock the free ore men took possession of the council chamber. By 1 o'clock every foot of space in the hall, on the landing and down the stairs was packed with excited, noisy, perspiring Democrats and Republicans.

The free ore fellows chose C. O. Baldwin for chairman. The opposition claimed that it was not legal and through Col. Gridley attempted to organize under the call. He neglected to recognize the chair and was not recognized in turn, hence, whenever he opened his mouth, he was howled down with ringing cries of "Order! Order!"

C. P. Maginnis finally was recognized by Chairman Baldwin, secured the floor and made a partisan speech. He said that the Democratic party in the Sixth district might be seduced, but it could not be reached. His supporters cheered him to the echo.

C. A. Towne then took the floor and said: "You have heard your man, now will you have the fairness to hear me?" "Yes! Yes!" yelled the free ore men.

Mr. Towne then proceeded to show that the meeting was not partisan and should be organized under the call. Excited Democrats attempted to ask him questions, but he refused to be interrupted. One of these was Judge Jaques.

Mr. Towne pointed his finger at the judge and said: "Will you hear me, sir? There is a gleam of partisanship in your eye that is as clear as day to me as you are a leader in the Sixth district."

Then Morris Thomas jumped into the breach. Judge Hollenbeck next had a question asked and at 2:15 the two sides were at it like Kilkenny cats, one attempting to show that it was a Democratic meeting it would be controlled by Democrats, the other asserting and protesting that it was nothing but a citizens' meeting and devoid of political features.

Judge McGindley tried to say something and began to talk about the revenue on free ore. C. A. Towne called him down and then pandemonium broke loose. Col. Gridley pluckily maintained his stand and amidst much cheering, hisses, catcalls and general hurrah the motion declaring him chairman was carried. S. F. Suively was elected secretary and the call was read by Col. William F. Gore, at least he looked as if he was reading it, but not a word could be heard a foot away from him.

Then the subjoined resolution was read and the signers of the call for the meeting and friends adjourned to Temple opera.

Resolved, by a mass meeting of the voters of the city of Duluth, that we, the undersigned citizens of Duluth, being interested in the production of iron ore on the Mesaba range, hereby join in a call for a mass meeting of citizens to be held at the city hall in Duluth, on Dec. 28, 1893, at 2 o'clock p. m., in pursuance of the following call:

"We, the undersigned citizens of Duluth, being interested in the production of iron ore on the Mesaba range, hereby join in a call for a mass meeting of citizens to be held at the city hall in Duluth, on Dec. 28, 1893, at 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of memorializing Hon. M. F. Baldwin, member of congress from this district, on the importance of maintaining the present duty on iron ore."

A. E. Humphreys, Frank Cox, Henry Truelson, John Sullivan, J. L. Grant, E. J. Williams, F. J. Marsh, C. M. Vance, B. Maginnis, W. F. Gore, F. A. Enaboe, J. H. Crowley, Geo. F. Chester, F. B. Ross.

That it is the profound conviction of this meeting that the great interests of the Sixth congressional district of Minnesota, and especially of the county of St. Louis and the city of Duluth, demand the retention of the present duty on iron ore reported into the United States; and that in behalf of the mineral, commercial, transportation, manufacturing and agricultural developments of this district, and in behalf of the welfare of both the laborer and the employer, upon whose united prosperity all progress depends, we hereby request and strongly urge our representative in congress, Hon. M. F. Baldwin, to use his every effort, both by vote and influence, to secure the retention of the present duty on iron ore in any tariff legislation by the present congress.

That in this resolving, this meeting believes itself to represent the overwhelming sentiment of the voters of St. Louis county, irrespective of party.

That a copy of these resolutions be properly engrossed, signed and certified by the chairman and secretary of this meeting.

ALDERMAN HUGO SAYS

That the Changed Relations Between Duluth and Chicago and the Twin Cities Impressed Him.

Chicago Seems to Recognize the Zenith City as a Friendly Rival in Several Ways.

An Inquiry Which He Made Into the Smoke Nuisance and the Deductions Drawn Therefrom.

"Hello!" said a Herald reporter today as he met Alderman W. W. Hugo, "I thought you had gone on a trip to California and intended to remain there all winter?"

"No," said Alderman Hugo, "that is where you were mistaken. I only went to Chicago on business. It was my brother, N. F., that went to California in search of better health. Did I see anything that would interest The Herald's readers? Well, generally speaking, a person who goes to Chicago and does not see or hear something that would interest Duluthians. One thing that struck me forcibly, and as showing the growing importance of Duluth, and the change in her commercial relations. A very few years ago our relations were with St. Paul and Minneapolis and our business men could be found by the score at the hotels of those cities, and very few had any regular business connection with Chicago, but that condition is about reversed. The North of Chicago, has taken the place of the Merchants, of St. Paul, and when I saw eight Duluth men sitting in the lobby of the former hotel I got back to legitimate methods, and the crowds of the street brought me back from St. Paul to my senses."

"Chicago seems to recognize Duluth as a friendly rival in several ways; one quotation from a letter written by Broker George W. Shepard to the Evening Post, of Dec. 22, will illustrate my meaning: 'As for St. Louis and Duluth getting all the business if Chicago concludes to get back to legitimate methods, that is nonsense. It is something for Duluth to be classed by Chicago with St. Louis, and the quotation allows us to conclude that the subject was not of Duluth, although I have unlimited faith in the possibilities of engineering skill.'"

"Another thing that struck me was the comparative clearness of the atmosphere and the good work done for the city in that respect by the enforcement of the 'Smoke Ordinance' and the fostering care of the 'Smoke society.' I investigated over one hundred boilers, and talked to the head of the 'Smoke society' and a number of business men, and from the information thus gained, my previous study of the subject I think I can make a few general statements that are not deductions."

"That smoke can effectually and in all cases, be prevented, but there is no general remedy and each case requires special study of the local conditions. 'That the mere fact of preventing the smoke does not necessarily mean economy of fuel, and in a great many cases means the reverse.'"

"That in most cases, where a good fireman cannot prevent the smoke, an expenditure of from $50 to $700 a boiler is necessary to cure the smoke."

"That most of the smoke-preventing devices or furnaces have been put in under the pressure of a species of smoke police, and not because the owners wanted to do so."

"That the enforcement of a smoke ordinance gives an opportunity for systematic persecution and political dishonesty, for creating new public offices."

"That the plague of fleas and locusts is but a patch on the plague of sellers of patent smoke preventing devices let loose on a community that indulges in the luxury of a smoke ordinance."

"That it costs the taxpayers money to enjoy a smoke ordinance."

"That the smoke society of Chicago is defunct, the fad is played out, the owners of steam plants have been relieved of thousands of dollars, and the suburban districts are now about to be visited."

"That it is headed for Duluth, and I would advise bracing the city system so as to be able to withstand the disease, the first symptom of which is the losing of the head of the body politic, and the loss of the blood and nervous system of the system, and the evils which surround us, and stop over."

DEFICIT OF CHICAGO

The City Only Just Emerging From an Era of Reckless Waste and Prolific Extravagance.

Taxpayers Have Been Robbed in a Wholesale Manner by Means of Stuffed Pay Rolls.

The Former City Comptroller Declares the Opportunity for Stealing was and is Practically Unlimited.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—A special to the Sun from Chicago says: Expert Accountant Kingwill's report of a $2,700,000 deficit in the city's accounts may be an exaggeration and misleading, as charged by ex-Comptroller Wetherell and Alderman Madden, chairman of the finance committee, but it is unmistakably true that the city has run behind, and that it is only just emerging from an era of reckless waste and prolific extravagance, bordering on criminality.

Mr. Wetherell admits that the city government has run behind between $200,000 and $300,000 during the year. How much of a deficit was inherited from the previous administration he does not pretend to say.

Alderman Madden estimates the deficit at the present time at $1,200,000. If he is right, there must have been a shortage of from $400,000 to $500,000 at the beginning of the current calendar year.

The ex-city comptroller said yesterday: "There is one way the taxpayers have been robbed in a wholesale manner and that is by means of stuffed pay rolls. I called Mayor Harrison's attention to many suspicious things in connection with street department payrolls, but could never get him to look into the matter. I had a great many affidavits in my possession proving corruption, and I was conscious of a terrible amount of crookedness."

"I was informed once that in a certain ward from which a street payroll came in with nearly 400 names, less than twenty men were actually at work. The rest were dummies. I have no means of knowing how much of the city was robbed through the agency of stuffed payrolls. The amount might easily have run into hundreds of thousands of dollars. The opportunity for stealing was and is practically without limit."

FORFEITED TO THE STATE.

Railway and Bridge Company's Charter at Council Bluffs Nullified.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—The Sun's special from Omaha says: In the supreme court of Council Bluffs Judge McGee, yesterday, handed down his decision in the case of the State of Iowa against the Omaha and Council Bluffs Railway and Bridge company, of Iowa, and the Omaha and Council Bluffs Railway and Bridge company, of Nebraska.

The suit was brought several months ago to have the charter of the Iowa corporation forfeited, and out the Nebraska corporation from the use of the streets of Council Bluffs.

The decision is very long, but closed with the announcement that the company's charter was forfeited to the state with its three millions of property, including the Missouri River Bridge company. The attorneys for the defendants requested the privilege of filing a supersedeas bond to suspend the judgment, pending an appeal to the supreme court, where the case will go.

The court said that the question whether the case was of such a nature that a supersedeas bond could be allowed was one on which he wished to hear the attorneys, before finally entering judgment until such hearing should have been had. The announcement of the decision called forth a burst of applause.

STRICKEN DEAD

TRUSTWORTHY STATEMENTS.

A recent New York dispatch reads: "James C. H.—, a fine looking and apparently healthy man, was observed staggering while walking on Fifth Avenue this afternoon, and after taking one or two uncertain steps fell to the sidewalk. When picked up he was dead. A physician examined the body, and pronounced leucemia the cause of death. A peculiar and feature of the case is that Mr. H.— was on his way to Maine, to settle in the home of his brother. He had passed the previous ten years in the western mining country, and had a modest fortune. If you have any of the symptoms given in the following testimonials you should lose no time in seeking relief."

From John L. Roberts, Stratford, Pa.: "I have suffered with leucemia, irregular pains, fainting and morning sickness, pain in shoulders, side, and arms for over forty years. For twelve years have been treated without avail by prominent physicians in my neighborhood and in New York. Growing constantly worse, smothering spells followed one another, so my life was often in danger and I needed constant care. As my son had been cured by Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, he sent me three bottles. The first dose gave me instant relief. Before using the last bottle I was completely cured. Although seventy-five years old I feel twenty years younger. I claim my cure to be a miracle."

Here is a letter from Mrs. John Kolger, of Cleveland, O.: "I had been troubled with my heart and stomach for years, but for sixteen months had been confined to my bed. I had four of the best doctors in the city, but none of them could benefit the weakness of my heart. I also had dropsy and rheumatism. I never took medicine that did me any good, until I used Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. I am much stronger. My appetite is splendid. I gain strength with every dose. I have gained more in six weeks from your treatment than in sixteen months from all the doctors."

"Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure" is sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists. It is safe, effective, agreeable, and does cure! Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

NO ONE KNOWS MRS. WALLACE.

The Story of West Superior's Inheriting a Fortune Denied.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 29.—A number of prominent persons, well acquainted throughout Mendocino county, assert that there can be no truth in the story from West Superior, Wis., stating that Patrick Fitzgerald and his five brothers residing there have fallen heir to an estate valued at over $1,000,000 left them by their aunt, Mrs. Wallace, of that county. Residents of Mendocino county have never heard of a wealthy woman named Wallace living there.

This May Explain It.

The following may have some bearing on the case and again it may not:

About two weeks ago a lanky and rather incoherent young man, giving some other name than Fitzgerald, however and wearing a mourning band on his hat out of all proportion, called at the offices of one or two newspapers in Grand Rapids, Mich., said he was from Ganges, Mich., where this whole story originated, and exhibited an incoherent writing which he said was a telegram referring to the fact that "Aunt Mary" was dead, and the "money was all right." This he said, referred to $500,000 left him. When asked why he was in such depths of mourning over a death that gave him a fortune he smiled a sickly smile and faded into the surrounding atmosphere. The writing he exhibited, however, was not a telegram in form or substance, and certainly never came through any telegraph office, although it was exhibited as a telegram. No attention was paid to him or his telegram, as neither his exhibit, his manner or his story presented any coherency or looked worthy of attention.

ANNA WAS ACQUITTED.

The Verdict in the Wagner Murder Trial at St. Louis.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 29.—After being out for twelve hours, the jury in the Anna Wagner murder trial brought in a verdict of not guilty yesterday. The court room was crowded, and the announcement of the verdict was received with cheer after cheer. During a scene of the wildest confusion the prisoner fainted away.

Anna Wagner was charged with the murder of five members of a family named Koesters, in May last, on account of love for Koesters. A strong chain of circumstantial evidence was woven, through the trial she manifested the most stolid indifference, and it was not until the verdict of the jury that her feelings obtained mastery over her.

CUT DOWN THEIR WAGES.

A Street Car Company in Indianapolis Makes a Reduction.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 29.—Wednesday evening the directors of the City's street railway in this city held a meeting and decided to reduce the wages of the motormen and conductors from 17 cents an hour to 15 cents, and the wages of drivers from 15 to 12 1/2 and 13 cents.

The cut will effect about 200 men and although the latter are loudly protesting, it is not probable that a strike will occur. The cut was necessitated, the officials state, by a very great reduction in receipts as a result of the hard times. The company binds itself to restore the original scale as soon as possible.

TO TEST THE LAW'S VALIDITY.

Mitchell and Corbett Have Been Arrested in Florida.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 29.—Pugilist Charlie Mitchell, was arrested yesterday and taken before Judge Baker, who committed him to trial before the criminal court which meets next Tuesday. Mitchell was immediately released on $10,000 bond. It is understood that he will also be arrested. The object of their arrest is to test the validity of the laws regarding prize fighting.

The suit is a friendly one and is brought about by the Duval Athletic club, for the sole purpose of ascertaining the legal aspects of the proposed fight. Application will be made to the circuit court for a writ of habeas corpus, which proceeding will bring about a final disposition of the case.

Another Receiver Wanted.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—Shortly after noon yesterday papers for the appointment of a receiver for the New England Terminal Railroad company were filed with United States Commissioner Shields.

Affixed to the bill of complaint were affidavits from a number of stockholders declaring that the company is insolvent.

Two Murderers Escaped.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Dec. 29.—A special from Arcadia, Fla., states that C. Quinn Bass and James North broke jail. Both were convicted of murder. Bass had been sentenced to life imprisonment and North to be hanged. Both are white and very desperate. Bedford Branch, who was convicted with Bass and received the same sentence, refused to escape with the men.

Drowned in a Mine.

HALIFAX, N. S., Dec. 29.—An accident occurred in the Symond Kaye mine at Montague, ten miles from Halifax, yesterday, by which four lives were lost. The victims were L. Savage, Angus Faulkner, William Turpin and another man unknown. Water rushed in and overwhelmed them.

All in Good Condition.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—Bank Examiner Kimball says that the rumors that certain New York city national banks are in trouble is unfounded. All the national banks of this city, he says, without exception, are in good condition.

Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured many afflicted with rheumatism, and we urge all who suffer from this disease to give it medicine a trial.

THE GRAND OLD MAN

Premier Gladstone is Eighty-Four Years Old Today and is Looking Strong and Virile.

A Scene of Unusual Animation at His Official Residence in Downing Street This Morning.

Telegrams, Messages and Cards of Congratulation are Arriving From All Parts of the World.

LONDON, Dec. 29.—Mr. Gladstone is 84 years old today. He is in excellent health, and this morning arose at an early hour looking strong and virile. The scene at his official residence in Downing street throughout the morning has been one of unusual animation. The hourly mails are extraordinarily heavy, and messengers are arriving and departing with bewildering rapidity.

Already Queen Victoria, the prince and princess of Wales and prominent members of both of the English political parties have tendered their congratulations. A large number of congratulatory messages have been received from America, the continent and Australia. Many Liberal societies have adopted resolutions of felicitation, copies of which have been forwarded to the premier.

Mr. Gladstone after breakfast attended personally to his letters and at noon presided at a meeting of the cabinet. He was deeply affected by the warmth of the greetings and congratulations of his colleagues. Peals were rung on the bells at Hawarden, near which place Mr. Gladstone has his residence where Mr. and Mrs. Drew, son-in-law and daughter of Mr. Gladstone celebrated the day in a quiet manner.

When Mr. Gladstone entered the house of commons this afternoon he was given a most enthusiastic welcome by his supporters. As he passed down the aisle to his seat the Liberals sprang to their feet and, waving their hats, cheered him again and again at the top of their voices.

The prime minister smilingly received acknowledgment of their vehement greeting.

RECEIVED FATAL INJURY.

An Infant Thrown From a Window During a Fire.

LAKEWOOD, N. J., Dec. 29.—A fatal accident occurred yesterday at South Lakewood park, about four miles from Newark. The Casino, a road house controlled by a New York syndicate, caught fire and during the excitement the infant daughter of Henry Alexander, the manager, was thrown from an upper window and received fatal injuries.

The fire spread rapidly and there were a number of narrow escapes from death, the occupants of the house saving nothing but the clothes in which they had been sleeping. One man was seriously injured by jumping from a window. The building was burned to the ground.

The building was erected only a short time. The fire is thought to have started from an open fireplace.

Fire in a Hotel.

LYNN, Mass., Dec. 29.—Fire in the Sagamore hotel property, Union street, Lynn, this morning caused damage of fully $32,000. ## TENACITY OF LIFE.

Two Stories Illustrating Some Remarkable Examples of It.

"It is an astonishing thing how some species of animals will cling to life," said Longbow as he hesitated between the choice of a coffee berry and a clove. "I read in an authentic work a short time ago that an alligator will go on fighting for hours after the brain has been removed from its body."

"How long have you been studying natural history?" asked Whoppers, with a rapid but comprehensive survey of the free lunch table.

"Not long," answered Longbow. "But I was thinking of the extraordinary way a lobster I saw yesterday held on to his time on earth. I went into the Arcadia and ordered a broiled live lobster. After I had ordered it I found the waiter, the head waiter, that the last one I had was evidently boiled several days before it was broiled. 'Come with me,' he says, and took me into the kitchen. There stood the cook, with uplifted knife, over an enormous green boiled lobster that was frothing at the gills with passion. The knife came down, and Mr. Lob spread himself out in two equal divisions, but was livelier than ever."

"Two more blows severed the claws from the body, but each claw continued to gnash its teeth with rage. One caught hold of the knife and tried to get it away from the cook, but the blade was so sharp it let it let go. In another minute it was writing on the silver grill with a vigor that would have shamed any one of Mr. Fox's most active martyrs. I thought the struggle would never end, but at last, with a deep sigh, he gave up the ghost, and he did so blushed a rosy red with shame at what he thought his weakness."

"What'll y' have?" asked Whoppers tersely.

"Same," responded Longbow, a gleam of triumph in his eye.

"As you say," said Whoppers as he paid for the drinks, "lobsters are very tenacious of life. But they're not in it with eels."

"Is this another fish story?" asked Longbow cynically, but with a faint suspicion of approaching discomfiture.

"Well, I suppose an eel is a fish as much as a lobster," retorted Whoppers curiously. "But I was going to give you a specimen of what the eel can do in the clinging to life line."

"I was fishing for pike in Sloppy creek a couple of summers ago, and one day I pulled out the largest eel I ever saw in my life. I won't tell you how large he was, because if I did you might doubt the rest of it. He was not only big, he was athletic. He was the contortionist that ever sneaked a bait off a hook. One minute he'd be priontonging on the end of his tail, then he'd stand on his neck and go through all the evolutions of a skirt dancer with the rest of him. I had brought with me the biggest basket that I could find in Sloppyville, but, as I would I couldn't double that eel up and get him in the basket."

"Finally, when we'd both agreed on a breathing spell, I picked up an ax while he was resting and, with one blow, cut him clean in two. Do you think that quitted him? Not a bit of it. The two ends looked up at me with mingled hatred and reproach and before I could get the basket anywhere near them had jumped back into the creek. Now comes the most curious part of it. What do you suppose the consequence was?"

"I haven't the remotest idea," replied Longbow uneasily.

"Well, I'll tell you," said Whoppers in that impressive way of his that always made his friends squirm. "Subsequent investigation proved that the two ends of that eel married each other and raised a whole colony of bifurcated eels!"

Longbow looked at Whoppers long and earnestly without uttering a word.

"Mine's whisky," suggested the latter, as he returned the look with a frank, ingenuous smile.—Ernest Graham Dewey in Life.

WEST DULUTH ITEMS

Very Little of Interest is Manifesting Itself Around the Manufacturing Plants at Present.

Great Western Manufacturing Company Will no Longer Run Nights—Twenty Dump Cars Completed.

Duncan, Brewer & Company's Sawmill is Almost Completed and Will be Sawing Before Long.

But little news can be picked up at the manufacturing plants at present, as there are but few orders coming in at this time of the year. The uncertainty of tariff legislation is casting a shadow upon the hopes of the new year, and one prominent manufacturer said that he did not expect a change in the present stagnation until the question was settled. D. C. Prescott, of the Marinette works, said that he had received numerous inquiries from Canadian points in regard to his hand mill and other machinery, which he considered a significant fact on the discussion of the removal of the tax on lumber. His company is pushing its business, he said, as fast as existing circumstances would permit and hoping for the best for the new year.

The Great Western Manufacturing company has ceased up with delayed orders and will shut down the night work tonight, running hereafter on the regular day schedule.

The Duluth Manufacturing company has completed twenty dump cars for shipping on the range and has received an order for twenty more from the Lake Superior Lumber company.

The new Duncan, Brewer & Co. mill is nearly completed and it is expected that the machinery will be set in motion the last of next month. The sawing will be done on logs brought in by rail.

ON THE CHESSBOARD

The Harvard, Yale, Columbia and Princeton Tournament Which Began in New York This Week.

The Next Truly Great Chess Contest Will be Between William Steinitz and Emanuel Lasker.

Some of the Famous Men Who Have Been Ardent Admirers of the Royal Game.

The intercollegiate chess tournament, which began at New York Dec. 28, has become one of the notable chess events of the year—not because the players possess any great reputation or phenomenal skill, but because they do represent the rising generation of chess experts in America. They have been selected by rigorous competition.

THE INTERCOLLEGIATE CUP.
EDWARD H. HAYES, FORD H. HAYES.

As the best players among many thousands of young Americans at four of our great institutions of learning—Yale, Harvard, Princeton and Columbia—and their regular annual tournament cannot fail to awaken great interest in a game that mentally develops every man who studies it.

If there were need of any argument as to the worth of chess, it would only be necessary to give the names of the legions of warriors, including famous statesmen and statesmen who have been its ardent devotees during the 2,000 years of its existence.

Homer says the game was played at the siege of Troy, when the Grecian chiefs had a great deal of time on their hands waiting for a chance to restore beautiful Helen to the throne of Menelaus.

It was of Spain, Henry IV of France, Charles IX of France, Charles XII of Sweden, Charlemagne, Napoleon, Richelieu, Marshal Saxe and numerous other notable characters in history, for chess, and its profitable mental exercise in the royal game, which excels all other games invented by man in intricacy, absorbing interest and infinite variety of combinations.

The contestants in the intercollegiate tournament are the following named:

Yale—H. H. Hayes, '93, and E. H. Hayes, '94; Harvard—F. H. Hayes, '94, and E. H. Hayes, '95; Princeton—H. H. Hayes, '94, and E. H. Hayes, '95; Columbia—H. H. Hayes, '94, and E. H. Hayes, '95.

The Challenge cup, valued at $500 and donated by a few of the alumni of each college, was first battled for at Christmas time 1892, and was won by the Columbia representative, Edward Hayes and Edward Lasker, who were called upon to defend the trophy during the present tournament.

In last season's struggle Hayes won six straight games out of six played. He comes from a family of chess players, and six years ago as the champion of the Labourers' club he defeated J. H. Todd of the Columbia Chess club and won the championship of the college, an honor he has retained with but little difficulty since.

ly expert, no gets excited and attracts considerable attention by his gesticulations. He has beaten twice by World's Champion William Steinitz, the first time in 1899, when the score stood 10 1/2 to 6 1/2, and the second in 1891, when he made the much better showing of 8 games to Steinitz's 10, with 6 games drawn.

Dr. Tarrasch is 51 years of age and a native of Breslau. This place is famous as the cradle of such experts as Zukertort, Anderssen, Harwitz, Riemann and Schottlander, and in such an atmosphere it is not remarkable that Tarrasch became a chess player and a good one. His reputation rests mainly upon his victories in three successive international tournaments—at Breslau in 1880, at the British Chess association's Manchester congress the following year and at the German Chess association's Dresden congress in 1892. His playing in these three tournaments was unprecedented in chess history, for he won every game in the Breslau and Manchester tournaments and only lost one game in the contest at Dresden.

The proposed match for the championship of the world between William Steinitz and Emanuel Lasker will probably be the next truly great chess contest. Steinitz has held the championship a quarter of a century, defeating one after another such giants as Paulsen, Anderssen, Blackburne, Morphy and Tschigorin, and proving himself to be the greatest player of the world, with the possible exception of Paul Morphy, the wizard of the royal game. Those who have not seen Steinitz, and who have formed their idea of his physical appearance from pictures of his manly head, are generally of the impression that he is a large man. He is about 5 feet tall, however, has a small, slender body and walks with the aid of two canes. The coming match with Lasker will probably be the last Steinitz will play, and the question is whether he will give a good account of himself, even against such a monarch of the royal game as Steinitz.

Turfman C. W. Williams' Troubles.
Horsmen generally heard with regret the recent report that C. W. Williams of Independence, Mo., was in financial difficulty, for Williams is one of the most enterprising turfmen in America today. His career since he came to the city has been a record of success, and although the meteor appears to have struck with a dull thud just now it will not be long before he is heard again as the turf firmament again with all its old brilliancy.

In 1875, when Williams was 18 years old, he was driving a milk wagon in Chicago. Two years later he became a telegrapher. Then he started a creamery in Independence, Mo., but it was a failure, and he soon possessed of two cows. Williams took

A Lesson In Sanitation.
An important municipal document has been issued by Health Officer Waring, of Kansas City. It is a report upon sanitation in that city for the fiscal year of 1897 and seven months of the present fiscal year to Dec. 1, the most interesting and important features of the report
being in connection with the garbage system, which The Herald advocated a year ago for adoption in Duluth.

According to a summary of the report
given in the Kansas City Star, 7,000 loads of garbage were carried out of Kansas City last summer at a cost of about $12,000.

Of the $12,000 appropriated, $600
was turned over to the city treasury. That is not the vital part of the report. That is found in the record of the accounting benefits of the $12,000. And these benefits are graphically brought out in that portion of the report which deals with the death rate.

The death rate from April, 1897, to April, 1898, was 12.35 per thousand; that rate was the result of a year without the garbage system. The death rate from April, 1897, until December, 1897, was 11.5 per thousand.

Here one may see
the death rate decreased at the very period of its upward tendency. In an average year more people die in the winter than in the summer. The death rate of the entire year. Last summer, with a expenditure of $12,000, with a garbage
system in its very infancy, the death rate of Kansas City was lower than the commonly is in the healthiest seasons of the year.

When the coming winter's death rate is added to that of last summer the fiscal year of 1897 will show a decrease of 2 or 3 per thousand.

"This much," says the Star, "has the new garbage system done in seven months. It is no longer a theory that cleanliness pays, it is a fact demonstrated.
But the work is just begun. The garbage system is still in its swaddling clothes. There are many apparent faults with the system as it existed last summer. These faults may be easily remedied. They are in the operation and not in the principle of the scheme.

Next year, instead of 7,000 loads, there should be 15,000 loads of garbage carted out of Kansas City, and instead of being the second city in the country, Kansas City can and will be the first in the matter of a low death rate. The garbage system has proved itself a municipal blessing. Let it be so operated that it will be the model system of the world,
and Kansas City will be known abroad
as the Clean City."

Now why cannot Duluth pattern after Kansas City in this respect? It is an example that is worth following. There is now no municipal system of garbage collection in Duluth and the result is the accumulation in many backyards of heaps of garbage that in the spring,
when the hot sun pours its rays upon them, become breeding places for disease
germs that are carried by the wind to all parts of the city. To this fact can be traced much of the disease that has swept away victims by the score. Some people blame the water for causing typhoid fever and others say it is defective
sewerage, but the fact stands out unquestioned and undeniable that fettering garbage heaps are responsible for much of the disease that at times visits
the city. Yet the aldermen decline to apply the remedy and save the lives of valuable citizens. They have no com-punctions about piling up the city's debt for other purposes, some of them entirely needless at present, but they are unwilling to expend a few thousand dollars
yearly to lower the death rate.

An exchange wants to know why are eleven men invariably so sad, sober and subdued? Perhaps you would be if you were condemned to shoot up and down in a dark shaft all your life away from sunshine and companionship, with the daily dread of decapitating some rash passenger in your vertical passenger car. Still one would suppose these men might find much consolation in a book or newspaper or in study of human nature.

And of course some do to a certain extent. But their case should be more fully inquired into.

The Iron Ore Meeting.
It is unfortunate that so much bitter feeling was exhibited at the citizens'
meeting held at the city hall yesterday afternoon to discuss the question of a tariff on iron ore. There was no necessity for those present becoming involved in an intensely partisan discussion, if the talk indulged in can properly be described by that term. Both sides to the dispute made errors that they must regret. In the first place those who organized the meeting with Mr. Baldwin as chairman, while they undoubtedly had that privilege, displayed little courtesy toward the signers of the call for the meeting, as the latter were undeniably the people by whom the meeting should have been called to order. They likewise erred in refusing to entertain any amendment to the motion naming
Mr. Baldwin chairman. This was a gross denial of the right of free speech.

The opposing side made a mistake in continuing the bitter fight that then ensued. They would have done better to have made a dignified protest and to have gone elsewhere and held their meeting rather than organize a rival meeting with another in the same room
and then declare their resolutions against free ore adopted as the wishes of the citizens. They were clearly not adopted at that time. The opponents of free ore finally took the course which should have been adopted previously—they adjourned to the Temple Opera house, which was soon filled with an orderly but enthusiastic crowd. The resolutions protesting against free iron ore were again presented and they were unanimously adopted.

The Herald believes that these resolutions represent the views of a vast majority of the people of Duluth. In point of numbers the Temple meeting was much greater than that at the city hall
and was composed almost equally of Republicans and Democrats, who were unanimous in supporting the protest against free ore.

A Peculiar Vindication.
Congressman W. C. P. Breckinridge has been "vindicated" again, according to a dispatch from Kentucky, which says that the settlement of the case brought against him by Miss Madeline Pollard
for damages for betrayal under promise of marriage has caused great rejoicing at Mr. Breckinridge's old home, as all his old-time friends and neighbors have felt certain right along that he would be completely vindicated.

The "vindication" which so strangely causes rejoicing is the dropping of the suit by Miss Pollard in consideration of the payment to her of a lump sum of several thousand dollars and an annuity of $800 a year as long as she lives. It will be recalled that when the suit first was brought Congressmen Breckinridge was delivering a series of lectures for the Y. M. C. A. on the subject, "Moral Purity." He immediately asked for a suspension of public opinion until such a time
as he should be able to make public his defense. When his defense at last was entered it simply asked for a nonsuit on the ground that Miss Pollard had charged him with several different offenses instead of one. This was refused by the court.
Then he denied the truth of the plaintiff's petition on the ground that Miss Pollard was an immoral girl before he began his illicit relations with her.

On each occasion when he made a legal move his friends joined in a chorus
that they were sure he would be vindicated,
and now the great vindication has come. He has compromised the case by paying damages for the injury done the girl, and his friends say he is vindicated!
They must entertain peculiar moral ideas in this district.

Says the Boston Transcript: "Chicago is not yet through with great gatherings. The announcement that she is to spend a million dollars in charity is followed by information that the World's congress of tramps has decided to convene there at once. The meetings will be mostly informal."

Mrs. Lease has been removed as a member of the Kansas state board of charities, owing to the fact that she wanted to remove an employee because she was a Democrat. Mrs. Lease's prating about civil service reform was evidently for effect and not for practice.

Professor Scripture, of Yale, says that "fencing does not develop mental, but purely physical rapidity." But then the man who depends upon his muscle does more execution than the fellow whose fencing is all in his mind.

A Boston judge has destroyed all previously conceived opinions on the subject by holding that a college student should pay his tailor bill. Harvard is all torn up over such an astonishing decision.

The effects of hard times in Philadelphia are shown by the fact that one issue
of one of the daily papers had answers
to their advertisements from 3672 applicants for positions.

Against the Law.
"I was standing down here on the wharf," began a man who rushed into the Woodbridge street police station,
"when a fellow comes up to me, and says
he's a good mind to knock my chin off.
Was that again the law?"

"It was, technically speaking,"
replied the sergeant.

"That's what I told him, but he said
he could lick all the law in this town and me on top of it. Then he takes me by the coat, this way, and jerks my head to the right and the left, and says he's a good mind to jerk my jaw off. Was that again the law?"

"That was both assault and battery,"
said the sergeant.

"That's what I told him, but he snarled and snarled, and says he owes half the police force and two judges, and has a soft snap. Then he grabs off my hat and jumps on it, and hits me a slap on the ear, and says he'll make my head ache
for a week. Was that again the law?"

"Certainly it was,"
said the sergeant.

"That's what I told him, but he said
he also owned the other half of the police force, and says that if he didn't have to go to the bank to draw $10,000 he'd make a knothole of me. Was that again the law?"

"Of course,"
said the sergeant.

"Was it again the law when he twisted
my nose, punched me in the ribs and then turned me around and booted me
five times?"

"To be sure,"
said the sergeant.

"Well, that's what I told him, and I'm glad to find out I'm correct. Much obliged to you. If I see him again, I'll try and get a bet that he was wrong
about it. Goodby. Nice day outdoors."

SUICIDE IN CHICAGO

George N. Leighton, a Wealthy Citizen of Home City, a Suburb of Cincinnati, Swallowed Poison.

Only Cause Known is His Indictment With Others for Misusing the Widows' Home Funds.

Two Tramps are Dead and Two Others Very Sick, Having Drank Alcohol and Aconite.

CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—George N. Leighton, of Cincinnati, took a heavy dose of poison at the Stafford house in this city yesterday morning and died from the effects of the drug this morning. He was discovered in a dying condition by employees of the hotel at noon yesterday. The police were notified and Leighton was removed to the county hospital where he died at 5:10 this morning.

Mr. Leighton was a wealthy citizen of Home City, a suburb of Cincinnati, and was connected with many of the moneyed institutions of Cincinnati. The only cause that can be assigned for his committing suicide is the dispatch printed yesterday, in which it was said that he, with three other citizens, had been indicted on charges of appropriating funds belonging to the Widows' home.

ALCOHOL AND ACONITE.

A Concoction That Caused the Death of Two Tramps.

ATTLEBORO, Mass., Dec. 30.—Two tramps, whose names are not known, met their death last night and two others, Creese Jones, of Thirty-third street, Pittsburgh, and John McLane, of New York, were made deadly sick by drinking a concoction of alcohol and aconite, purchased at one of the drug stores. Jones drank from the bottle in the afternoon.

In the evening they applied for lodgings at the Dunham street jail and at 9 o'clock all were taken suddenly ill. The two unknown tramps started for assistance, but before reaching the jail they dropped dead in the jail yard. They were discovered by a citizen who called the medical examiner, who saved the lives of Jones and McLane.

The other four members of the party, fearing arrest, fled. At midnight they were found at North Attleboro apparently well. The bodies of the two unknown tramps are at the undertaker's awaiting identification. The drug clerk, it is stated, repeatedly told Jones that the alcohol had poison in it, but the men agreed to take their chances on it and drank it.

BODIES FOUND IN A BOX.

A Mystery That is Puzzling the Police in Omaha.

OMAHA, Dec. 30.—The bodies of a gray-haired old man and a pretty young woman lie on a stone at the morgue, and Omaha's detective and police are vigorously working on clues to ascertain how they came there. About 10 o'clock yesterday morning a stranger took to the office of the Pacific Express company a box, saying that it contained stationery, and that it should be taken to a town in Iowa. It weighed about 200 pounds. Prompted by suspicion created by this fact, the matter was reported to the chief agent and he decided that the box should be opened.

The removal of the first board disclosed the head and body of a woman with blonde hair, and a complete examination revealed the body of a man. Both bodies were nude and doubled and were bound with wire. On making this discovery, the express company sent the gruesome freight to the coroner and notified the police.

Further than this, no facts can be obtained. The express company's employees found no marks of violence on the bodies. When the contents of the box were removed, it was filled with rubbish and forwarded to the address. By this means the authorities expect to arrest the man for whom the bodies were intended. They refuse to give the name of the Iowa town for fear of scaring their man.

COMPTROLLER OF CHICAGO.

Ex-Auditor Ackerman, of the World's Fair, Offered the Position.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Dec. 30.—W. R. Ackerman, auditor of the World's fair, who is visiting his daughter, Mrs. George C. Buell, Jr., of this city, yesterday received a message from Chicago asking whether he would accept the office of comptroller of Chicago.

He replied that he would on condition that he be allowed to conduct the department in his own manner and without political interference. The conditions were accepted and Mr. Ackerman will leave for Chicago this evening. He says that if the duties appear too onerous, he shall still decline the honor.

Was Dead When Buried.
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Dec. 30.—Concerning the report that the coffin of the notorious desperado, Jim Burrows, had been found empty in the prison graveyard here, Dr. Cantrell, the penitentiary physician, states emphatically that Burrows was dead when turned over to the grave diggers. It is also stated that a young physician of this city has the skeleton of the outlaw hanging in his office.

New Commercial Regime.

MADRID, Dec. 30.—The Estafeta announces a new provisional commercial regime commencing Jan. 1, with Great Britain, Germany, Austria, Italy, Belgium and France, on the basis of the treaty already in force with Switzerland. France, the paper adds, will directly favor Spanish wines by the introduction of measures to check the manufacture of artificial wines.

CORBETT AND MITCHELL.

Their Fight May Not Occur at Jacksonville.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—A special to the Evening Sun from Jacksonville, Fla., says: It does look as though the Corbett-Mitchell meeting will not take place here. The managers of the Duval club are in a state of panic and do not know which way to turn.

The principals were designed to define the law and get a decision from the supreme court as to the authority of the circuit courts of decision, would not be an illegal act. Governor Mitchell refuses either to countenance the proceedings while they are pending or to respect the decision of the court when it is rendered. This is what he said: "I shall not be garrotted by any county or circuit courts decision. There are seven circuit courts in the state and each one may give a different judgment. If the case is submitted to the supreme court as a last resort, and if the court decides that I have no authority to prevent the fight I will be governed by it. But I will not be governed by the decision of any other court in the state."

NATIONAL CURRENCY BILL.

Bill Providing For Issue of Legal Tender Notes.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Chairman Springer, of the banking and currency committee of the house has prepared a national currency bill providing for the issue of legal tender notes to any banking association, organized under the laws of the United States or any state or territory, which is solvent and has a capital stock actually paid up in cash of at least $25,000.

The notes are not to be subject to the 10 per cent tax except as provided in the text and the bonds deposited for their security are exempt from taxation during the time they remain on deposit. The banks depositing bonds must guarantee their payment, and all have no authority to prevent the fight I will be governed by it. But I will not be governed by the decision of any other court in the state."

CONVICTED OF ADULTERY.

A Sensational Church Trial Ended at Chattanooga.

NASHVILLE, Dec. 30.—A sensational church trial in Chattanooga resulted yesterday in convicting a prominent citizen of that city of adultery with the wife of another prominent citizen.

The convicted party was J. B. West, steward and treasurer of the Century Methodist church, in which the trial took place and the woman in the case was Mrs. Rosa Hensen, wife of George N. Hensen, president of the Citizens Bank. West was some time ago made co-respondent in divorce proceedings instituted by Hensen which was dropped. He denied the charges and will appeal from his decision to the quarterly conference.

COXE ON THE SCHOOLS

The Buffalo Bishop Made Public a Fourth Letter to Monsignor Satolli Regarding the Schools.

Virgil's Story of Troy a Warning to Great and Strong People Against Foreign Influence.

Reminds Satolli He is Ignorant of the American People and Unfit to Give Counsel.

BUFFALO, Dec. 30.—Bishop Cox makes public this morning his fourth letter to Monsignor Satolli. He selects for his subject the schools and says that the ablegate's party, fully realizing the fact that votes can do more than bayonets just now, is bending every energy to that end. Virgil's "Tale of Troy Divine," the bishop says, is a warning to great and strong people against foreign influence, and he relates the story of the ablegate Simon who persuaded the Trojans to admit a great religious machine, full of iron, with the result that the city fell into the hands of the Greeks.

The bishop likens Monsignor Satolli to Simon and says that the ablegate, in advising us to pull down our great buildings, the common schools, and accept his machine instead, makes clear that what we need, in his opinion, is the constitution according to Sheehan and education according to Satolli.

With San Domingo, Mexico and South America before the ablegate's eyes, a reproach to his ideas of education that smells to heaven, the bishop is astonished that he should come to Buffalo, to teach the United States, and asks why he does not go where neither schools nor universities exist that are worthy of the name, and let us alone who for nearly three centuries, have taught ourselves and whose schools were not Godless until Roman ecclesiastics forced the politicians to take out of them the ten commandments and the Lord's prayer.

The bishop then criticizes Father Pulley's book designed for "the family and more advanced students in Catholic schools and colleges," and quotes liberally from it to show what in his opinion is the state of the Catholic teachings. In conclusion the bishop again reminds the ablegate that he is wholly ignorant of the American people, their moral standards and their religious faith, and is not a proper person to give them counsel in their own affairs.

CONFIDENT THAT HE WILL WIN.

A Man to Walk From Springfield to Chicago in Seventy-Two Hours.

CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—Henry Schmebl, the veteran Chicago pedestrian, who defeated O'Leary when the latter was in his prime, has finally succeeded in getting on a match. The match which Schmebl has made was arranged yesterday. It is to be for $1000 a side, and the conditions are that Schmebl is to walk from the state capital at Springfield to the court house in Chicago, a distance of 188 miles in seventy-two hours.

Schmebl will start from the state capital at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of Jan. 1 and expects to arrive at his destination here at 1 o'clock, Jan. 13, one hour ahead of time. The articles give him the privilege of postponing the start, if the weather is too cold or stormy. Schmebl is confident that he will win easily.

TO SEARCH FOR COLGATE.

Party Starts to Rescue the Cook of the Carlin Party.

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 30.—A Spokane special to the Telegraph says the relief party left Kendrick, Idaho, yesterday to search for George Colgate, the deserted cook of the Carlin party, who was lost in Bitter Root mountains. Any doubts as to the letter found in the bottle written by Colgate, stating that he was alive, are dispelled by comparing his signature with that written by him on the hotel register at Kendrick, just before he left with the Carlin party in September last.

NEW RAILROAD SCHEME.

A Road to Run From Lower California to Arizona.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 30.—A special to the Globe Democrat from the City of Mexico says: A railroad concession has been granted by the Mexican government for the lower California end of the San Diego & Phoenix railroad.

The proposed road is to start from the Puelba of Tia Juana in the territory of Lower California and terminate at Yuma, Ariz., with a branch fifty miles in length to Ensenada, in Lower California. The concessionaire is W. H. Carlson, mayor of the City of San Diego, who left the City of Mexico Thursday night after having secured the permit.

DUTY WILL BE RESTORED.

The Lead, Iron and Coal Combination to be Made.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—[Special to The Herald.]—John Burke, of Idaho, who is here in the interest of the lead ore interests, said to The Herald correspondent today that there was no doubt but that in the end a combination would be effected which would result in the restoration of the duty on iron and lead ore, and on coal.

Iron Works Sold.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—A special to the Press from Syracuse, N. Y., says: The immense plant of the Onondago Iron company which cost $400,000 was sold at sheriff's sale yesterday for $41,000 to George Doherty and Frederick W. Barker representing the Solvay Process company. The works have not been in operation of late.

A ROW OVER A MILL.

Employees Threatened Violence and Troops Were Asked For.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—A Sun special from Tacoma, Wash., says: West & Co.'s big mill is the principal concern of Aberdeen, on Gray's harbor, and has been closed for several months. Laborers have clamored for its re-opening. Arrangements have been perfected to resume, when the Bank of Aberdeen levied an execution for $40,000 on the safe, it having developed that West & Co. sold their mill to A. J. West's brother-in-law, Robinson, of Saginaw, Mich., and placed the proceeds in the safe.

The side of an office was torn away to get the safe out preparatory to moving it under guard. Employees of the mill, being engaged at the prospect of enforced idleness and poverty, threatened violence. The sheriff was ordered implored for tearing down the building and removing the safe. At this, officers of the Aberdeen bank charged the citizens and laborers with inciting a riot. Troops were asked for and refused, and the bank carried the war into Tacoma and had one of the mill owners, Samuel Benn, made receiver for the property of A. J. West, head of the mill. The receivership will also shut out Robinson, who is hastening West to claim his property rights.

TAXATION OF INCOMES.

Ex-President Harrison Refers to Some of the Objections.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—A special from Indianapolis says: Ex-President Harrison, in an interview yesterday on the income tax said: "The taxing of incomes is an old measure and has been always much discussed question. Being a direct tax, its force is, of course, more keenly felt and therefore more vigorously opposed. It has always been argued against this system of taxation that it does not benefit the people at large other than assisting in defraying the expenses of the government, and is, of course, on that account, inferior to other systems of taxation. There are many other objections also, but I do not care to go into the matter to greater length."

McKane Indicted.

BROOKLYN, Dec. 30.—The extraordinary grand jury, which has been investigating the alleged election frauds in Gravesend, made a return this morning to Justice Cullen. A big batch of indictments were handed up. One of those indicted was John Y. McKane, the chief of police of Gravesend. It is said that Justice of the Peace Newton and several election inspectors were among the indicted.

Bank Teller Absconded.

PROVIDENCE, Dec. 30.—William Austin Bennett, teller of the Globe National bank, has absconded, and a hurried examination of the books has revealed a shortage in his accounts of $10,000, with a possibility that the amount will reach twice that sum.

Will Continue Operation.

OMAHA, Dec. 30.—The Council Bluffs & Omaha company will continue to operate its electric road until next Tuesday at least, when it will be known whether an appeal can be taken from the decision of the court that it ousted from the streets.

Drowned During a Fog.

AMSTERDAM, Dec. 30.—It is reported that fifteen persons were drowned during a dense fog that prevailed over this city and the Zuyder Zee Thursday. Navigation was impossible owing to the density of the fog.

The French Navy.

PARIS, Dec. 30.—Admiral Maigret has been appointed commander of the French flying squadron and Admiral Menard has been ordered to take command of the Northern squadron.

A Peculiar Strike.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—The shoemakers at Northampton will go on strike Monday to compel the masters to erect workshops in connection with the factories, in order to prevent work being done in dwelling houses.

An Explorer Dead.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—Sir Samuel White Baker, the distinguished African explorer, died this afternoon at his residence at Newton Abbott, Devonshire, aged 72 years.

ROYAL HONORS.

Royal Baking Powder Leads as Usual—In Strength and Value 20 Per Cent Above Its Nearest Competitor.

The Royal Baking Powder has the enviable record of having received the highest award for articles of its class—greatest strength, purest ingredients, most perfectly combined—wherever exhibited in competition with others. In the exhibitions of former years, at the Centennial, at Paris, Vienna and at the various State and Industrial fairs, where it has been exhibited, judges have invariably awarded the Royal Baking Powder the highest honors.

At the recent World's fair the examinations for the baking powder awards were made by the experts of the chemical division of the agricultural department at Washington. The official report of the tests of the baking powders which were made by this department for the specific purpose of ascertaining which was the best, and which has been made public, shows the leavening strength of the Royal to be 160 cubic inches of carbonic gas per ounce of powder. Of the cream of tartar baking powders exhibited at the fair, the next highest in strength thus tested contained but 133 cubic inches of leavening gas. The other powders gave an average of 111. The Royal, therefore, was found to be 20 per cent greater leavening strength than its nearest competitor, and 44 per cent above the average of all the other tests.

Its superiority in other respects, however, in the quality of the food it makes as to fineness, delicacy and wholesomeness, could not be measured by figures. It is these high qualities, known and appreciated by the women of the country for so many years, that have caused the sales of the Royal Baking Powder, as shown by statistics, to exceed the sales of all other baking powders combined.

WEST DULUTH ITEMS

Water Company has Made a Proposition Reducing Hydrant Rentals and the Number of Hydrants.

No Action Was Taken and the Validity of the Franchise Will be Tested in Court.

Both Military Companies Inspected by Quartermaster Winne and Major Braden—Cemetery Improvement Plans.

The West Duluth Water company made a proposition to the village council at its last meeting as a compromise measure, which was not considered. It granted a reduction in the number of hydrants from seventeen to fifteen per mile on the present mains and a maximum of twelve per mile on all future extensions. The price per hydrant was also reduced from $80 to $75. The matter will now probably rest until the validity of the present franchise is tested in the courts. The case will come up for trial some time next month.

INSPECTED THE COMPANIES. Quartermaster Winne and Maj. Braden at West Duluth Today.

Acting Quartermaster Winne and Maj. Braden inspected the property of the two military companies today. The armories, it is understood, were found to be in proper shape and the accommodations in good condition. It is believed from good authority, however, that a promise has been received from some of the members of that body that a suitable drill hall will be provided and the boys taken care of.

Company H has been enlisting new members lately and appears to be raining ground in enthusiasm and numbers. Company G is still without a captain. Frank Austin, of Duluth, never having accepted his commission. A new election has been called for next Thursday. G. H. Reeves is the only candidate spoken of for the position as yet and he will probably be elected. The dissatisfaction in the ranks will be overcome it is said by honorably discharging the dissatisfied members and filling their places with new enlistments.

To Improve the Cemetery.

Engineer Cruikshank is at present engaged in making a report of the cemetery with the intention of making the grounds more convenient of access as well as improving them artistically. There will be two entrances one at the present corner of the cemetery and the other on the south side. On either side of the ravine running through the property will be driveways connecting at the north end with the State street bridge. The replating will make but few changes in the position of the lots and will necessitate the removal of but a few graves.

New England Supper. Scott's hall was the scene of a pleasant gathering last evening, at the supper given by the ladies of the Episcopal church. The New England supper served in the hall of the Y. M. C. A. was the chief attraction and was well received by Western appetites. The booth of aprons and fancy articles was ably presided over by Mrs. A. J. West, who conducted a thriving retail business there by adding materially to the proceeds of the evening.

When my little girl was one month old, she had a scab form on her face. It kept spreading until she was completely covered from head to foot. Then she had boils. She had forty on her head at one time, and more on her body. When six months old she did not weigh seven pounds, a pound and a half less than at birth. Then her skin started to dry up and get so hard she could not sleep. About this time, at the earnest request of friends, I started using the CUTICURA Remedies, and in one month she was completely cured. The doctor and drug bills were over one hundred dollars. The CUTICURA bill was not more than five dollars. My child is now two years old, strong, healthy and large as any child of her age (see photo) and it is all owing to CUTICURA. Yours with a Mother's Blessing, MRS. G. E. TUCKER, JR., 335 Greenfield Avenue, Milwaukee, Wis.
